ITS CENTER.

CONGRATULATIONS
BROTHER GERMANUS BURNS
ON YOUR 25th ANNIVERSARY

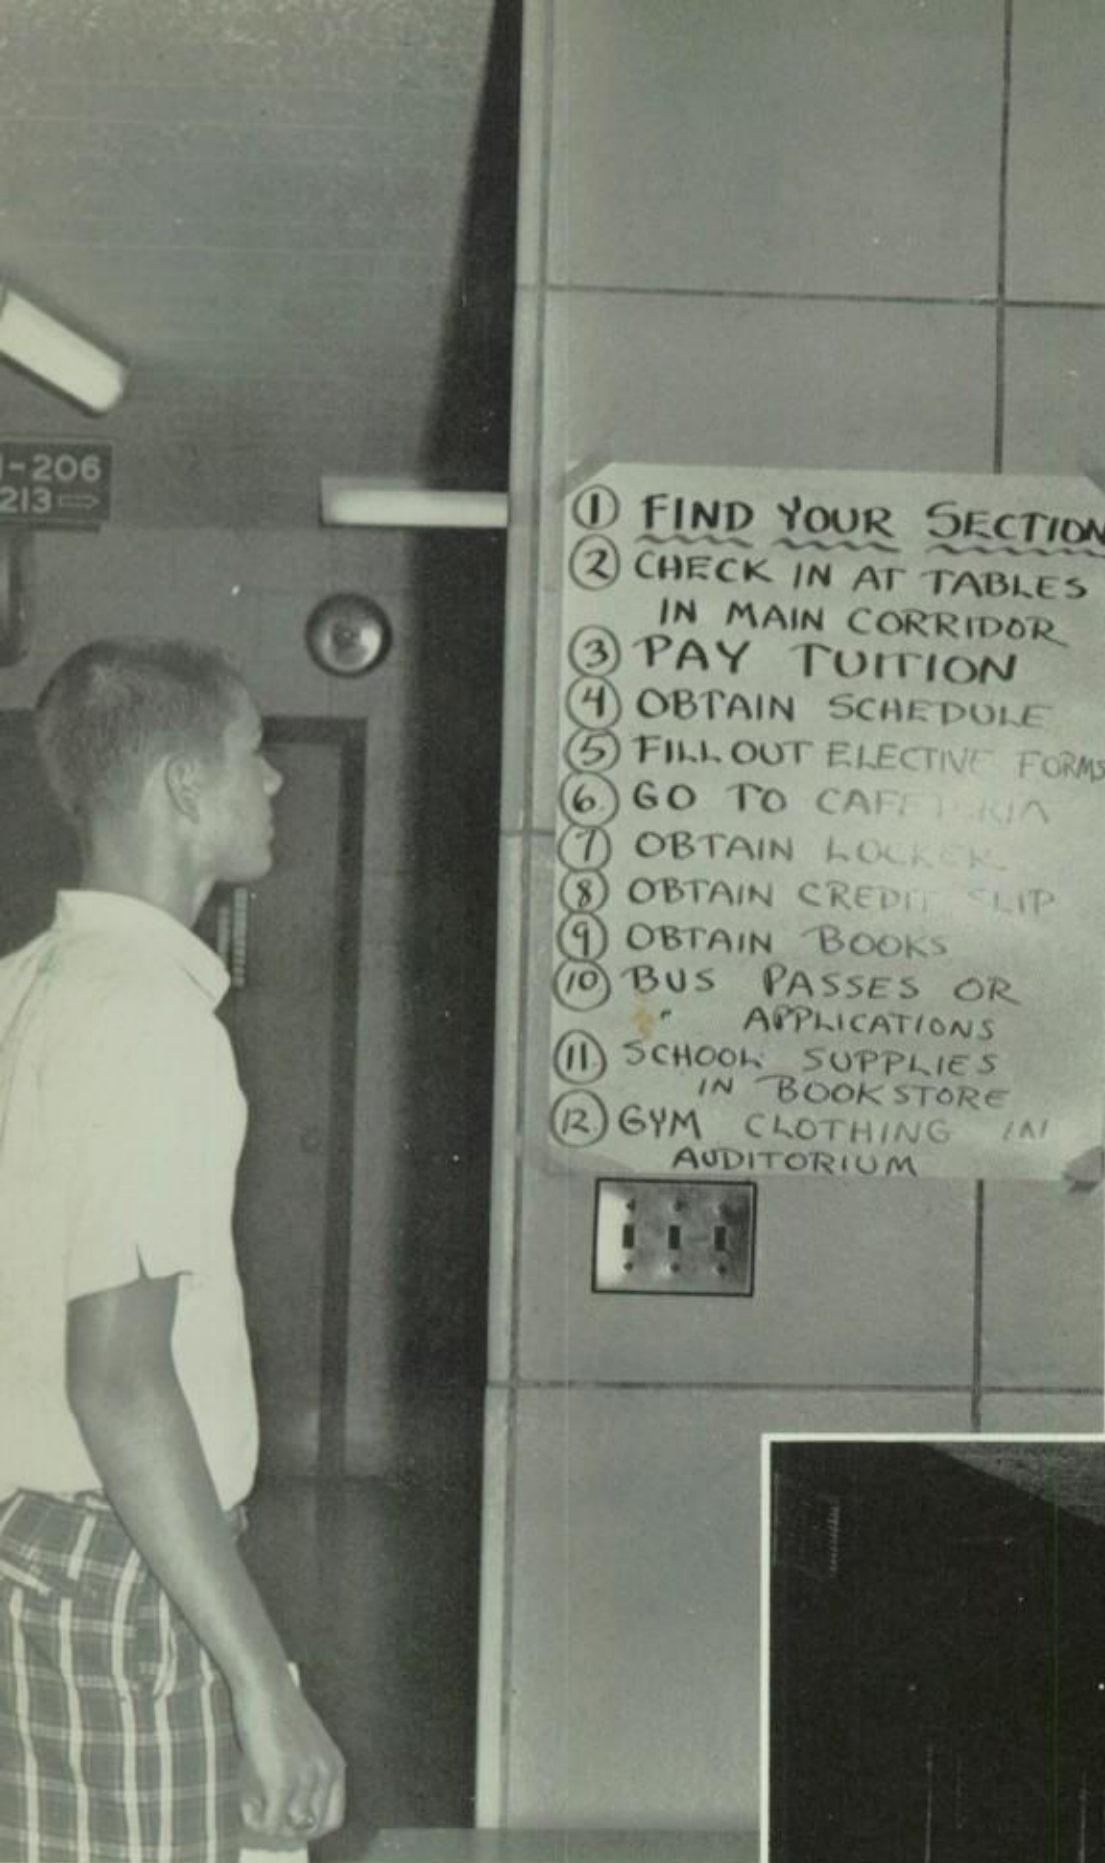

Although Brother Germanus has been here at Holy Cross only two years he has certainly made his presence felt. Brother is especially well known to the Seniors who are seeking information and understanding.

Everyone in the student body feels free to enter Brothers Guidance Office at any time to listen to his words of council.

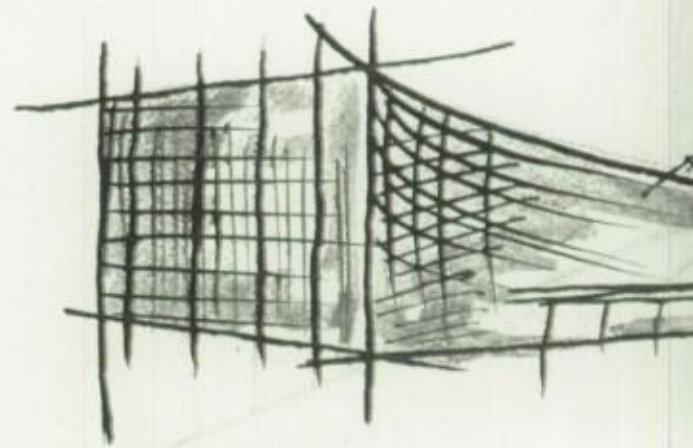

The Senior class deems it their honor to dedicate the 1963 CROSS to you, Brother, on this your twenty-fifth year of religious profession.

Brother Germanus is here addressing the parents of the members of the National Honor Society at the installation ceremonies.

The heart of Holy Cross High School is the chapel which is the scene of many student visits before and after school—on Wednesdays the C.S.M.C. recite the rosary for the missions.

MR. ROBERT BURNETT

Both the faculty and student body of Holy Cross were greatly shocked in February of 1963 to learn of the sudden death of Mr. Robert Burnett.

Here was a man dedicated unquestionably to his work of aiding others to learn. Not content with retirement from the police force, he sought both to improve his mind and to be of further use to his fellow man. At the time of his death he was ironically near to a Ph.D. degree.

No student of Holy Cross who ever experienced Mr. Burnett's distinct manner can ever forget him. He taught his subject in the style of a master, of a man who believed in what he was doing, and could not be satisfied with a mediocre effort. His pupils never ceased to be amazed at the wealth of information that seemed to be an inseparable part of the man; yet this, no doubt, he worked tirelessly to achieve, striving for perfection as must we all. Mr. Burnett was a husband, a father; he was also a friend, worthy of the name, to his superiors, his peers, and his pupils. He never lacked an encouraging word for a student in need of one, nor did he deprive of discipline those whom it would benefit. Mr. Burnett was able to give a most important and valuable gift to all with whom he came in contact: the sterling example of a strong Catholic gentleman of character.

May we who knew him here continue to pray in earnest that he achieves the reward of soul to which he has been called.

Here the fresh, unfettered minds of youth (and their eagerness to learn)

Boys of each skin color, each nationality,

Work, play, socialize, and bandy their ideas;

Yet is not their accord the same as that of which you are so proud?

Therefore have my blessing,

But observe and heed the lesson in these schools;

For men are all dear brothers, though around their nations are erected walls,

And it is of their common nature to live in bonded peace.

After a long summer of warm weather, lazy afternoons, fun-filled vacation trips, sneakers, swimming, hamburgers and freedom from cares and worries, there comes a day of reckoning for all students: book day. Even more than the first day of school, book day brings a shroud of gloom and resignation to the faces of the students. Vacation is ended, work begins, and all this is symbolized by a pile of terrifying, threatening, villainously expensive textbooks. Groan!

But there is a lighter side to this day of days. With the resumption of the school year comes the resumption of many friendships, the planning of capers to come, good-humored remarks about assigned teachers, the meeting of new classmates, and competitive recounts of vacation experiences.

Early in the morning the front of this school is deserted, a no man's land. As the day comes to life, early birds trek towards the doors of Holy Cross, cautiously, shoulders bent, almost attempting secrecy. Soon the number begins to increase, small groups gather, gawking at the class schedule, starting to murmur. When the doors are about to open, the small groups have become a wild throng, and the murmurs have become an intelligible din. The doors open, the mob pours in, and the school year has once again begun.

Brother John Joseph, moderator of the Senior Class of 1963, invited Mr. Charles Keating to speak at an upper-classmen assembly in the beginning of the fall semester. Mr. Keating, a prominent attorney, is associated with a movement for supervision of the grade of reading matter available to the general public, and particularly to young men and women.

In his speech Mr. Keating emphasized the effects of low-grade; immoral literature on the minds of young people. He contrasted the profit-seeking peddlers of newsstand filth with dedicated workers for the betterment of their fellow men. The famous Dr. Tom Dooley was presented as an example of a real man, the opposite of the phonies glorified as "he-men" by television and motion pictures.

Mr. Keating's words and Mr. Keating himself undoubtedly left an impression on the seniors and juniors of what real manhood should be.

On October 6, Holy Cross, under the sponsorship of the newly elected student council, initiated the social season with the first big fling of the year, the Student Council Hop. Traditionally the best attended dance of the year, this year's hop followed the pattern of its predecessors, showing off a well behaved crowd approaching 200 couples. Dancing to the mellow tones of the Bi-Chords, the Knights and their dates impressed everyone not only with their fancy footwork but also with their sterling manners.

The faculty members present viewed the scene while the socialities displayed their graceful form to the tune of such standards as the "Mashed Potatoes" and the "Slop" not to mention that old favorite, "The Twist." You could almost read the thoughts of certain brothers as they took in the rubber-legged antics of the young men and women before them; you could sense them reminiscing when the band played the Charleston.

It was interesting to note the liberal amount of freshmen in attendance, perhaps indicative of an intense school spirit which will characterize them as upperclassmen. Naturally there was a fine representation from the senior class, manifesting a spirit of awareness and cooperation that is typical of this year's graduates.

The Bi-Chords entertained the Knights not only with the dance crazes previously mentioned, but also inter-mingled several old favorites into the program, not the least of which was a polka. The courageous couples that attempted the latter number utilized their feather-like feet in a style that even Lawrence Welk would appreciate.

In general, the Student Council Hop served to indicate that cooperation and sincerity would be present throughout the school year, not only in the building itself, but at football and basketball games, dances, and any extracurricular functions.

The New York State Regents' Scholarship Examination was administered to the participating members of the Senior class. The test was given in the gym under the supervision of the Brothers and lay teachers.

Seniors grunted, groaned, squirmed, and perspired as they struggled through the difficult comprehensive exam, which lasted six hours. Upon the results hang the futures of many Seniors who hope for financial aid in order to attend college. The amount of scholarship money granted to those who qualify is determined by their needs, and may be applied towards the cost of attending any certified college in New York State.

The completion of the gruelling test brought forth many sighs of relief from the mouths of seniors, a sound rarely heard from students in their fourth year, that time of work and more work, tests and more tests.

One of the many "ordeals" that must be endured during the Senior year is the Regent Scholarship Exam. It is a six hour long battery of tests administered for the sake of deciding to whom the Regents Scholarships are to go.

By the time the Morning Tests are over the examinee is so "psyched-out" that the thought of facing the Afternoon Tests is almost unbearable. Realizing the state of mind the seniors were in, Brother Josaphat granted a privilege that heretofore had been unheard of. He gave the Seniors permission to smoke during lunch. Needless to say the cafeteria took on the appearance of a pool hall. Overjoyed with the privilege, some Seniors desirous of getting their "money's worth," smoked two or more cigarettes at the same time.

Although this privilege had no effect on the outcome of the exam it was appreciated by the Seniors for the fact that it helped to release the tension of the exam.

GRADUATION

It was a beautiful summer day when the proud and happy members of the class of 1962 walked briskly to their places for the long-awaited graduation exercises. As a matter of custom an outdoor platform had been erected on which the members of the faculty and guests who would speak to the jubilant graduates. Beaming parents and relations smiled in nostalgia and pride.

The Seniors listened nervously and attentively to the various speeches: Brother Laurian, Master of Ceremonies; Class President, James Klein; Paul McCauley, the Salutatorian; Eugene Burbige, Valedictorian; the guest speaker, Dr. Bernard Donovan, associated with the New York City school board; and finally Brother Josaphat, Principal. Then the moment of moments had arrived; diplomas were awarded as the young men filed up to the speaker's platform.

It was a beautiful summer day, one that would live in the minds and hearts of those eager graduates who had gone on to the fulfillment of a life conceived in the wisdom of God.

Paul McCauley, Salutatorian, gives his address as Eugene Burbige and James Klein, Valedictorian, and Class President, look on with serious faces.

Father Hennessy, C.S.C., Msgr. Reilly, Pastor of Blessed Sacrement, Bayside; Brother Josaphat, C.S.C., Principal; Brother Charles Kociolek, C.S.C., Senior Moderator; Brother Laurian LaForest, C.S.C., Vice-Principal are engrossed at the words of the Graduation speaker: Dr. Bernard Donovan.

The theme of the Senior Prom of 1962 was "Japanese Springtime" and the gym, as usual, had been skillfully decorated by Brother Charles Kociolek, Senior Moderator, and the Decorations Committee. The main features were an array of beautiful blossoming cherry trees, representing the work of patient decorators who had to attach by hand each "blossom" to the hundreds of branches.

THE KING AND I — SPRING A BIG

The Spring Musical at Holy Cross has become a social event looked forward to as much as the long awaited Senior Prom. For the previous five years the show had been a smashing success and the year of 1962 was no exception.

The stupendous task of producing the "King and I" was undertaken under the direction of Brother Etienne Cooper and Brother Richard MacDonald. Early in February they began casting and it was nothing but work from then until the musical was presented in May. The production was a manifestation of the work put into it, the acting, singing and choreography were flawless. The presentation was further enhanced by Brother Etienne at the piano, and Brother Renatus on the organ and John Larrere on percussion.

While all the actresses and actors were practicing their lines and rehearsing songs the hidden few were busily at work. The stage crew under the direction of Brother Arthur O'Brien and Brother John Houlihan put together the background for the musical.

As anyone who was fortunate enough to see it will testify the viewing of "The King and I" was a pleasant experience.

THE MUSICAL KNIGHTS

The most constantly successful student activity of Holy Cross is the band. It has delighted both audiences and contest judges throughout its eight year existence. No Holy Cross student, band member or not, can help feeling pride in its accomplishments.

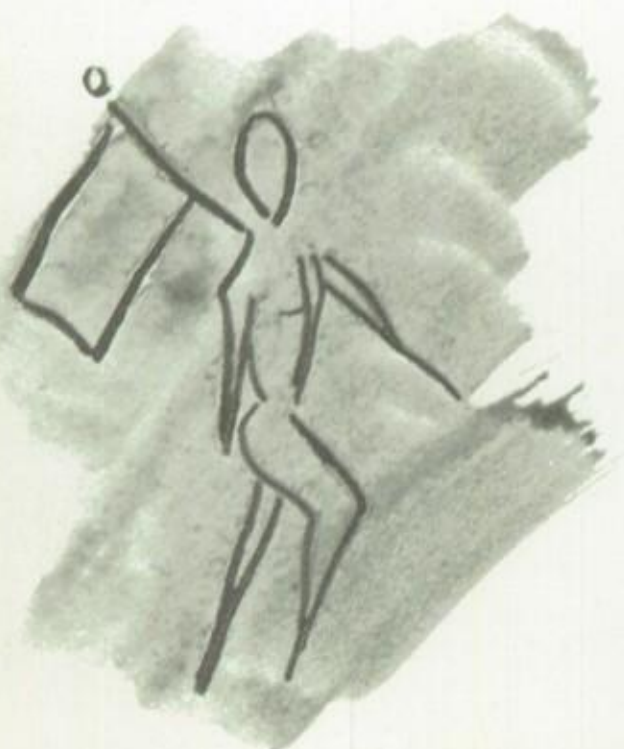

For the past four years the band has been under the masterly direction of Brother Renatus Foldenhauer. It seems that the excellence of the band has grown steadily each year, even though senior members are annually lost.

The marching band played this year as usual at most home and away football games. At these games the band looked very impressive, going through precision march formation and playing every selected number to perfection.

During the first semester the Swing Band, a special division, gave a concert for the Women's Guild, previewing the fine music to come in the annual Christmas Concert. This production, held in the Holy Cross Auditorium, was the band's finest hour. A great variety of tunes was presented, demonstrating the work, enthusiasm, patience, and skill of the members and the director.

The band facilities have been enlarged. There are now kettle drums, chimes, and a variety of percussion instruments in addition to the basic musical tools. And the surprising fact is that there is for each instrument a student who has mastered it, whether it be an oboe, tuba, or triangle.

STAGE CREW

Behind every Holy Cross stage production is a little publicized and often forgotten team, the stage crew. Under the direction of Brother John Houlihan and Brother Peter Martin, it's their job to construct and move the sets and props that are so integral to any good production. The stage crew not only constitutes a hard working group but an after school organization. President of the stage crew is Senior Richard Baumann, a four year stage crew man. A large part of the success of the Knights' plays depend on the stop watch timing of the stage crew. Besides their contributions during school plays, the stage crew helps out at the Womans' Guild Christmas Party, the Band Concert, and numerous other school affairs. Again this year they have proved a valuable asset to our stage successes.

Under the general title of the Holy Cross Forensics Society came two distinct divisions, debate and oratory. Mr. Joseph Lipp, former moderator of Forensics, left that position in the 1962-63 term.

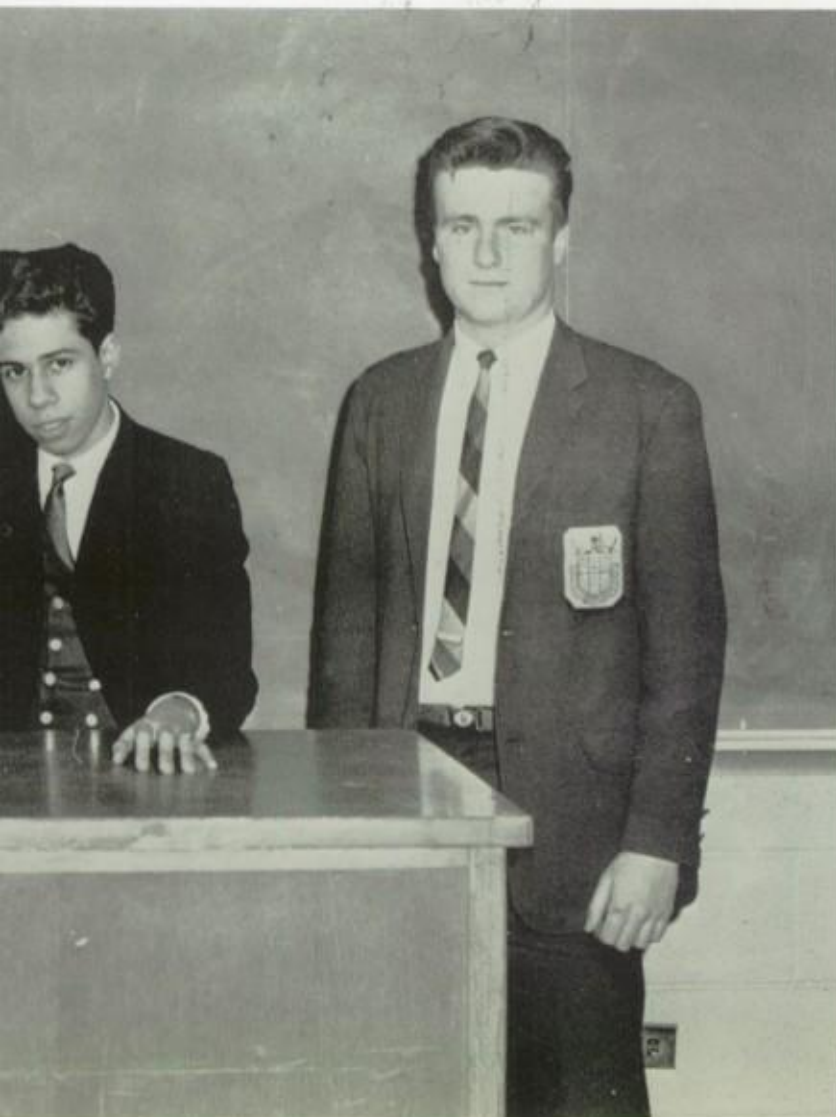

Among the busiest extracurricular participators are the members of the Forensics society. Both orators and debaters must practice, plan and do research from the beginning of the school year, and even during summer vacation. The debate team, having received the topic chosen for use in the specific year throughout the nation prepares in advance both sides of the resolution and the various means of establishment and argumentation. The oratory club concentrates on more intensified schedules for writing speeches, memorization, and style of delivery.

Holy Cross has always done well in the numerous competitions which occur during the year. The Society lost many of its finest speakers last year at graduation, but has been championed ably by the Seniors of 1963 and a number of promising Juniors and Sophomores.

FORENSICS

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

To gain Admittance to the National Honor Society, a careful process of selection has been set up. To be eligible for consideration, a candidate must first of all have a scholastic average which places him in the uppermost brackets of his class. But that is not enough. Scholarship without the highest Character is unworthy of man's divine purpose and unworthy of life in the American democratic society. The scholar must have Character if he is to be a good citizen of the Kingdom of God and of the United States of America. In addition, Scholarship without Service to one's fellowmen and without qualifications of Leadership is sterile. These, then, are the cornerstones of membership in the National Honor Society—a platform of Scholarship foremost, backed by Character and harnessed to Service and Leadership.

Brother Germanus Burns, C.S.C., Moderator of the National Honor Society is seen here giving the Salutation.

The Honorable John T. Clancy, Judge of the Surrogates Court is seen here giving his address to the Honor Students.

Brother Josaphat Chmielewski, C.S.C., Principal of Holy Cross High School, is giving a short address to the students who are about to be honored by being Invested in the National Honor Society.

Brother Elmo Bransby, C.S.C. Provincial Director of Studies for the Holy Cross Brothers Eastern Province and past President of Saint Edward's University gives the Commendatory to the newly received members of the National Honor Society.

SENIOR NIGHT

Senior Night is always an event awaited with some eager anticipation. This year was no exception. In fact, perhaps, this year there was more than the usual anticipation. Instead of the usual Bunco Game and movie for entertainment, there would be rip roarin' Senior self-styled entertainment. Bill Tierney and a group of his cohorts got together to put on a skit culled from the old wild west days. This certainly was a farce pure and simple. The title left no one in doubt—"Bandit Benny Rides Again." Bandit Benny was hilarious as written, but as it was acted out there was no room for question as to its real hilarity. Tom Stapf caused many a whistle, hooting and howling when he appeared on the stage in a blue ballerina costume and at the same time sporting a wild red wig. Steve Conte, his sheriff-father, was the perfect example of melodrama. His studied gestures, following somewhat hesitantly the profound speeches, caused laughter and free comment from the groundlings. The other members of the cast contributed their share to the fun and deserve much praise.

The second skit, a parody on "Macbeth," was a determined effort on the part of its author to deviate as much as possible from the original playwright's tragedy. It too proved much fun. Certainly the house was almost brought to its feet when Bill Dalton hit the boards as the amazon Lady Macbeth, familiarly known as Big Bertha, Dunkie, and Macduff, alias Count Pou, were acted with carefree abandon by Joe Buchheit, Paul Weston and Mike Denove. Many others contributed to the laughs, too many to be mentioned here. Many thanks to these lads.

Refreshments and a technicolor movie rounded out the entertainment. This was a Senior Night not to be easily forgotten.

This year's Cross is again moderated by Brother Arthur Hannaway; who was ably assisted by a capable and competent staff of carefully selected students. Brother Nicholas Piano, assistant moderator, directs a talented group of artists in preparing the art work for the Cross.

As a yearbook the Cross is going into its fifth year of publication, and as promised it is bigger and better than ever. This year's Cross is actually a chronicle of what went on at Holy Cross during the school year. Included, are all school activities on all student levels; Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and SENIOR.

Perhaps, in the great range of material that goes into a yearbook, our staff might have accidentally left something out. If so we are sorry and promise that we won't miss it again in next year's book.

THE LANCE

From the first football game in the fall through the basketball and forensic seasons up until graduation day in June the activities of the students are compiled and published in the LANCE.

Six times during the year there is a frantic race to beat the deadline which is never considered won until the last issue is handed out. This begins approximately a month or a month and a half before that particular issue is to be published. The paper is "laid-out" so that the editors know exactly where each article is going to go and how long it must be. Then these articles and their desired lengths are assigned to the student reporters. Next come the photographers who illustrate by pictures what the reporters try to represent by words. After a lapse of time of approximately a week both the pictures and the articles descend on the "Pub." The articles are proof read, typed and sent down to Brother Thomas receives the editors meet Brother down in the shop and go through the final lay-out. From here on out it's up to the student printers and their printing machine. Two days later the paper is ready to be folded and distributed. The editors gasp a sigh of relief that they made the deadline the time and get set to start all over again on another issue.

So thus you see how one side of the "Pub" works and gets an insight into what goes into putting out the Lance. The moderator, Brother Robert Gilroy, Ass't moderator Bro. Thomas Kane and their staff do what they are backed behind that door that says "Publication."

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

An integral part of the smooth operation of the "Pub" is the Photo Tradesmen Guild. It is the members of the Guild who capture student life at Holy Cross in pictures. They not only take, but also develop all the pictures you see in both the LANCE and the CROSS.

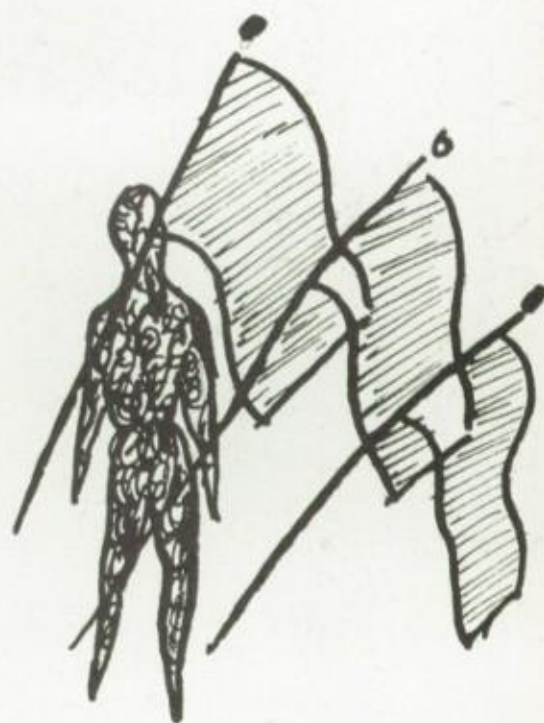

The sacrifice made by the members of the Guild are not often realized by the student body. While the rest of Holy Cross is enjoying a basketball game or talking to his date at a dance a member of the Guild is busily operating his camera. They also spend many hours hidden in the confines of the darkroom developing the pictures.

Each year the Holy Cross Student Theater Presents two productions, one a play the other a musical. This year's play was the smash hit by Frank Gilbreth Jr. and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey, Cheaper by the Dozen. The play was the age-old story of conflict between parents and adolescents.

Kiernan O'Callaghan portrayed Mr. Gilbreth, the father and manager of the Gilbreth family as well as the last word in educational trends and proper dressing. Gail Nolan and Jean Haplznik alternated as the mother of the Gilbreth family, the understanding mediator between father and child. Ernestine (Carol Piotrowski) and Frank (Frank Lynch) are the members of the family through whose eyes we relive the "glories" of the Gilbreth. Anne, the modern Patrick Henry of the Gilbreth family, was portrayed by Pat Staph. The rest of the Gilbreth family included Robert Libman as Bill—the chaperone, Pat Sweeney as Martha—the moral support for amme, Phil Marshall as Fred, Neil Divers as Dan, Kenneth Moore and Dennis Byrne as Jackie and finally Siobhan McGlinchey as little Lillian. Anne's callers were Jack Cleaton as Joe Scales and Donny Hughes Larry the fullback. The grim Dr. Burton was played by George O'Neill and Miss Brill by Margaret Amirati.

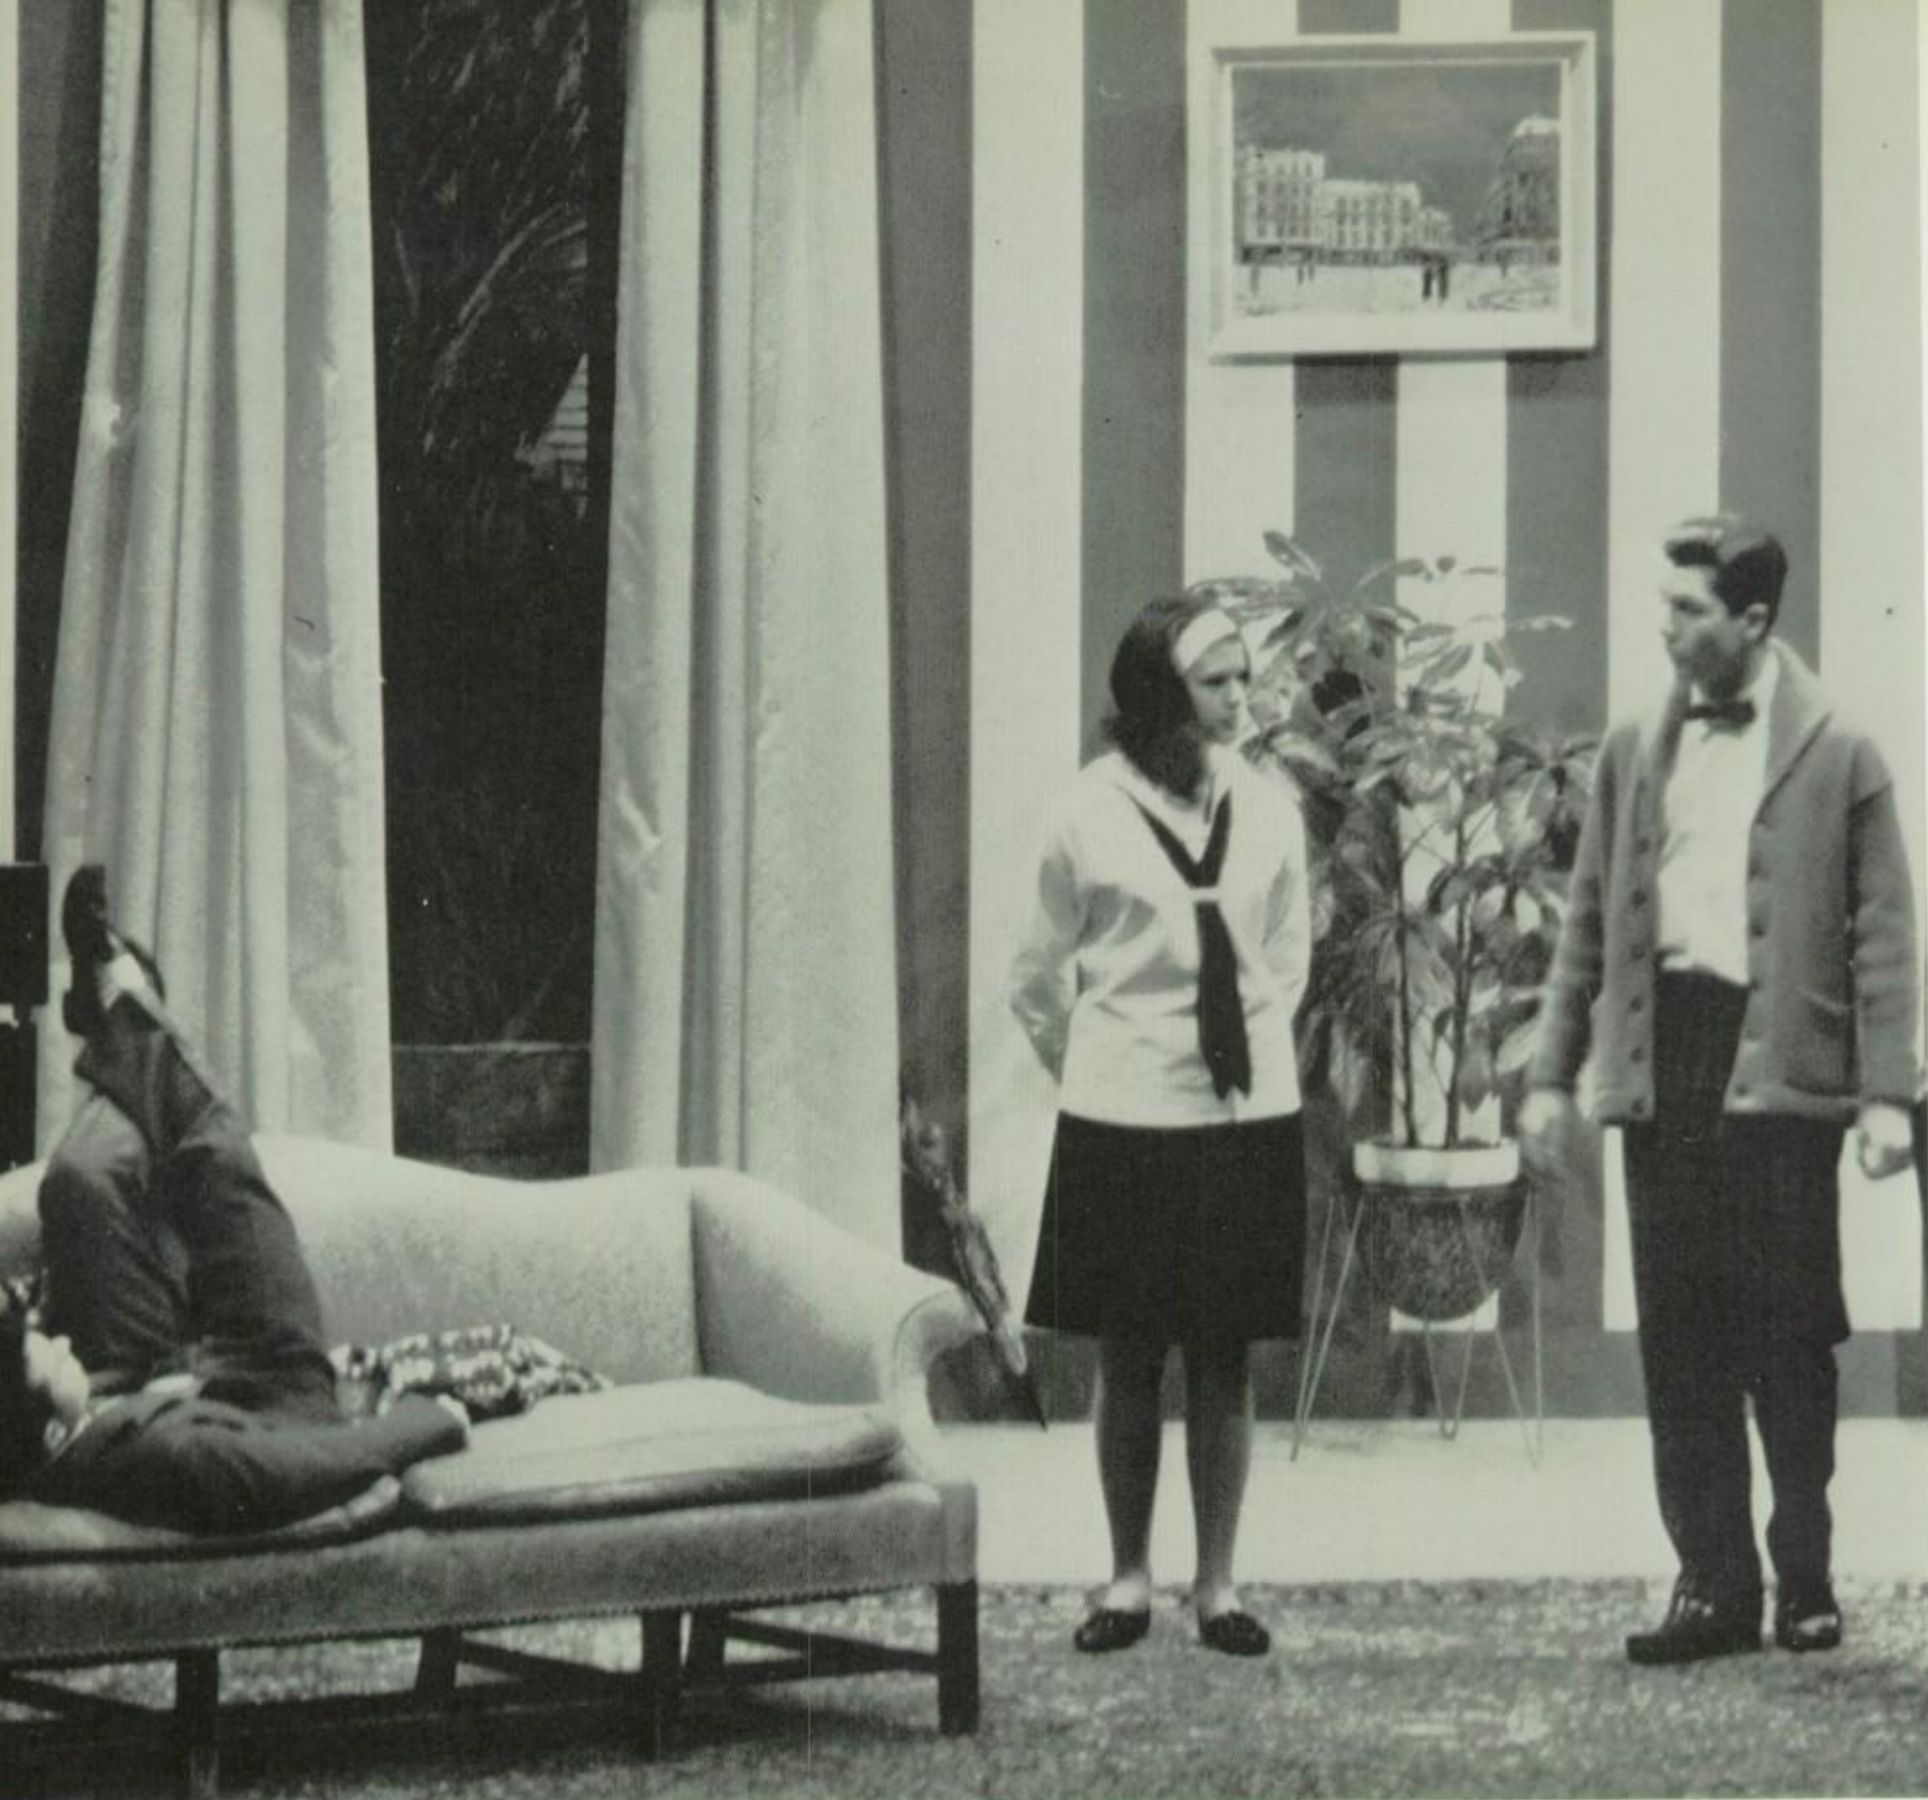

As the final curtain went down the applause of the audience was evidence of how much they enjoyed the performance. Hats off to Brother John Joseph Donnelly and his student thespians for a great presentation.

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN

▲ Ann and Larry seem to be having some difficulty in making up their mind to something. Do you suppose that "Father" is within ear shot.

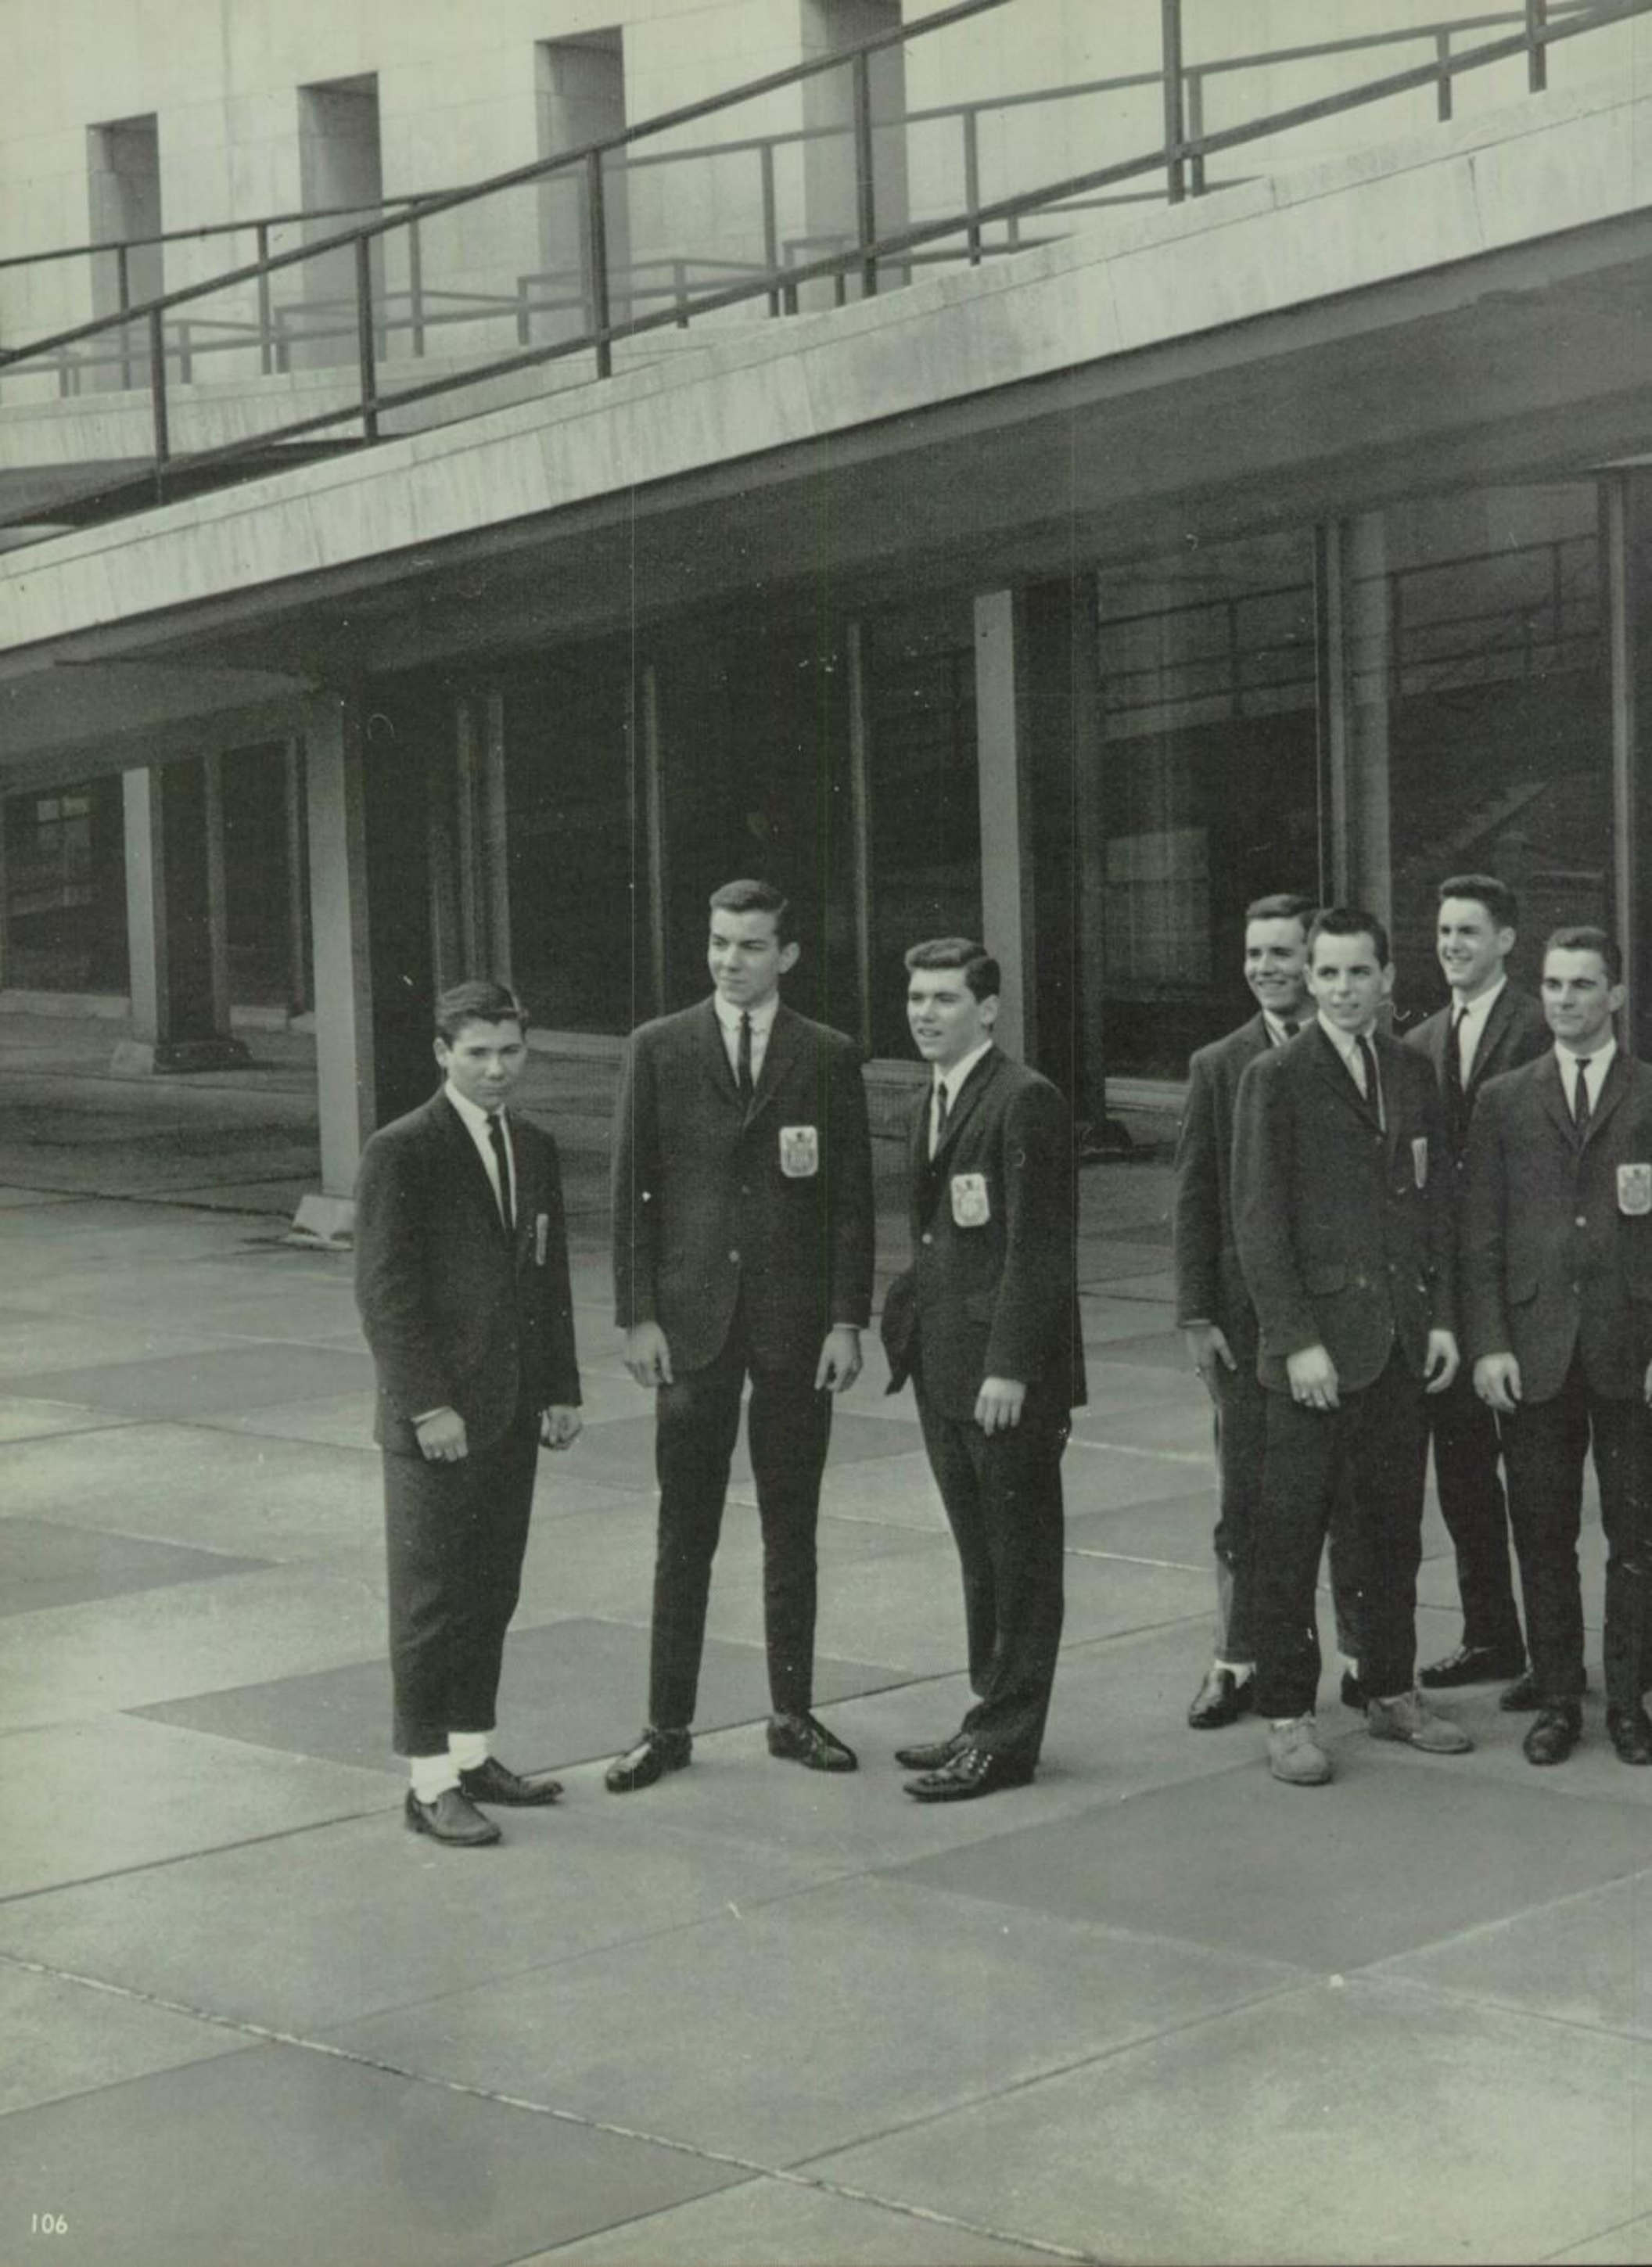

◀ "Father" and Mother are looking over the chart of information which must be followed by each one of the twelve with religious faithfulness.

Someone seems to be having difficulty with something or other.

Members of the Women's Guild again this year generously offered their services to help on the make-up for the play

FRESHMAN CLASS

After eight years of hard climbing to get to the top in grammar school the Freshmen find themselves at the bottom of the totem pole and considered to be the "lowest of the low."

The atmosphere has completely changed. Instead of sitting securely in one classroom all day they must move throughout the building in order to continue the pursuit of knowledge. Just because there is a test in one subject doesn't mean that the homework assignment in the other four will be lenient. For the first time many of them take gym with the result that they often arrive late for their next class with shirts half-buttoned, shoes untied and hair uncombed. But, after a few weeks everything starts to fall into place and all they have to worry about is the rather humorous glances of the upper classmen.

Perhaps the most distinctive trait in the Freshmen is their unbridled desire to join in every extracurricular activity. Whether it be football tryouts or the singing audition for the musical there are bound to be an infinite number of freshmen present.

The Freshmen may be laughed at, "hood-winked" and locked in lockers but the school could not do without them for it is from these "lowest of the low" that will in four years form the Senior Class.

The past school year has seen many innovations in both scholastic and social activities. Perhaps, the most welcome of these are the record hops after the home basketball and football games. During past years the record hops have been few and far between, but they now show promise of being a regular feature.

Some of the hops have been sponsored by the Student Council but most of them are the result of the efforts of the members of the C.S.M.S., which used the profits for the foreign missions.

Many of the hops not only had records but also a combo composed of Holy Cross students. The popularity of these hops is best seen by the increasing numbers of the attendance. The hops start immediately after the game and help release the tension that builds up during the game.

The student body wish to express their thanks to those responsible for the hops and hope that they will continue in the future.

VALATIE RETREAT

Father leads the group of retreatants in the Sunday morning holy hour which closed the retreat.

Although there is silence at the meals these Seniors seem to be having no trouble putting away the food at breakfast at any rate.

One of the many privileges extended to Holy Cross students when they become upper classmen is that of making a closed retreat at Valatie. This weekend provides a time to "get away from it all" and think of things other than college Boards and Social activities.

From 4:30 Friday afternoon until dinner time Sunday afternoon the retreatants are on silence which is broken only at recreation. The retreat is composed of a series of conferences and meditations during which they review their past life and what they are aiming for in the future. With the help of the retreat master they try to re-establish their contact with God and clear their conscience of any doubts about the state of their soul.

The atmosphere in which the retreat is conducted is very conducive to spiritual re-evaluation for the retreat house is located in upper New York state farm country. The escape from the crowded city helps to release the mind from all its worries in order to concentrate on God.

The upperclassmen would like to express their appreciation to the Brothers of Holy Cross who maintain the retreat for the opportunity to renew these ties with God.

The statue of Our Lady inspires many of the retreatants.

C.S.M.C.

In its second year of operation The Catholic Student Mission Crusade proved to be one of our most worthy school activities. The club was a personal one in as much as it entailed on every member the obligation of a daily intention for the missions in the Morning Offering and the offering of one Mass a week for the missions.

On the other hand it was very much a group effort. For many of its projects were only successful through the backing of the club as well as the whole student body. The C.S.M.C. sponsored many sock-hops after the football and basketball games and every Wednesday morning we could find the club members reciting the rosary in the school chapel for some mission intention. A very important project to the C.S.M.C. was the can food drive which it successfully sponsored during the month of February. All the food was sent to the Little Sisters of the Poor. Other projects conducted by the C.S.M.C. was the collection and sale of stamps, week-end work done at different convents in the city, participation in the "Unseen Missionary Program" and the mite box drive. At many of the general meetings guest speakers who had been missionaries in all parts of the world addressed the members.

So, under the direction of Brother Hugh McCabe, the C.S.M.C. has become one of our most interesting clubs as well as a substantial help to the missions.

I wonder if he won or lost on that round.

Brother Richard seems to be surrounded by the Freshmen. Well, anyway, Brother seems happy.

BUNCO PARTY

Look Ma, there was even food at the Freshmen Bunco Party.

The Fordham University representative seems to have an attentive audience at his talk on College Night.

These students seem interested in the words of Father Corr, Director of Admissions at Stonehill College, North Easton, Massachusetts.

COLLEGE NIGHT

An annual highlight of the senior year is the opportunity to meet with various representatives of major colleges to discuss any problems and apprehensions that might arise with regard to future schooling. Too often seniors complain of the intangible pressures that must be faced in sifting out the assets of different institutions and making a choice that will undoubtedly affect the rest of their lives. College night serves as an excellent medium for resolving these difficulties and confusions.

On November 2, of the past school year, delegates from 26 colleges representing not only schools from the local area but as far west as Notre Dame, Indiana, met with Holy Cross pupils and their parents to furnish information regarding the courses, tuition, degrees or any other topic concerning their respective colleges. Through the wise counselling of these men an unknown number of young men found the path to future success that much easier and perhaps were able to see their goals a little more clearly.

THE ART DEPART- MENT

This artist certainly seems to be a very serious one. I wonder if he knew that our photographer was on the scene.

Molding clay seems to be the order of the day in this art class—or are they molding future artists.

Don't tell anyone but I think that we are under the bright lites.

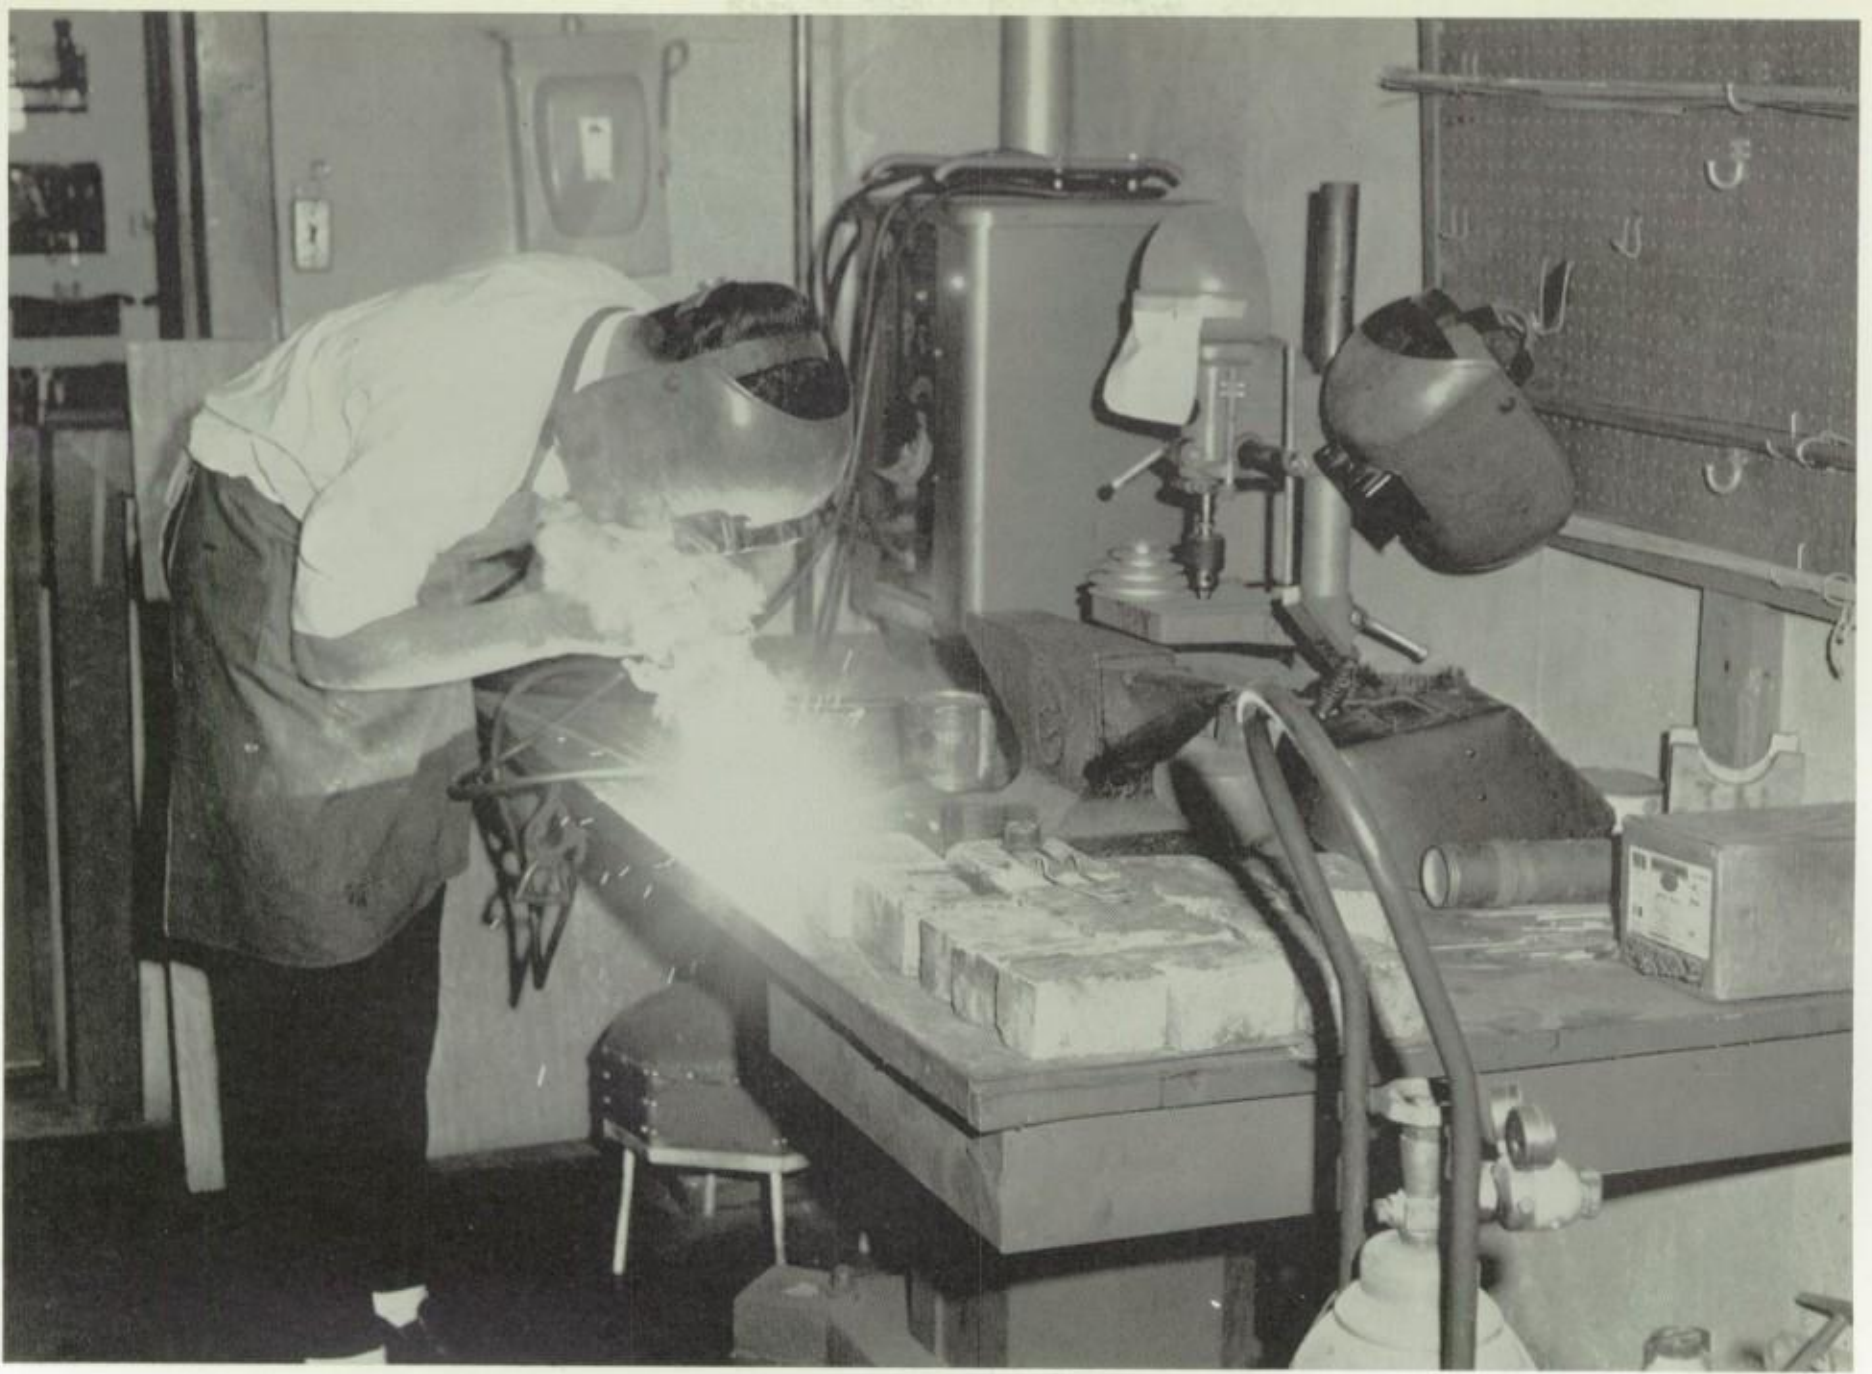

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Timothy Murphy and Stan Purgur wait in line for tools during the Industrial Arts class.

The students in the Industrial Arts program seem to be enjoying themselves while they are busy at work.

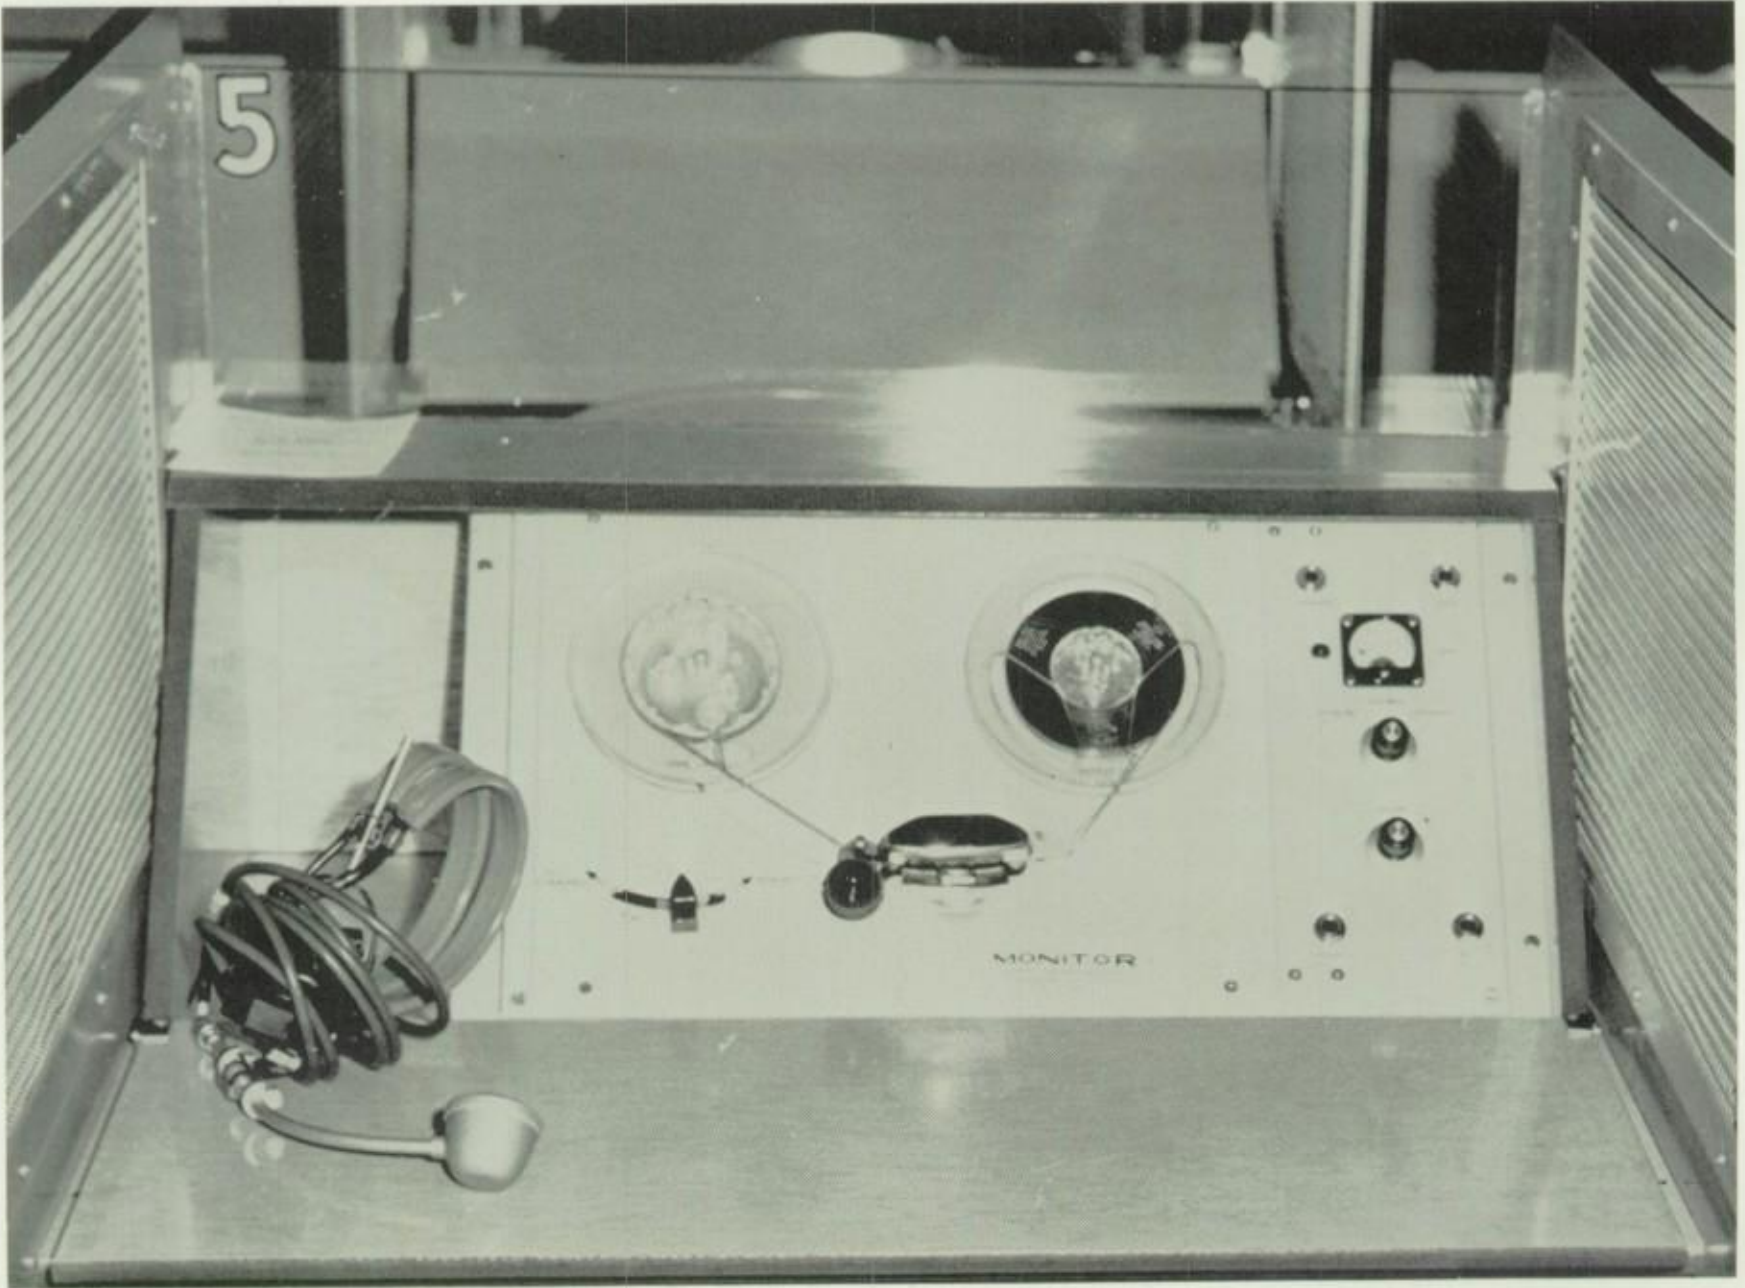

Is he working? or smoking?

LANGUAGE LAB

It's interesting to look at the expressions on the faces of the students during a Lab period.

Here at Holy Cross we are complying with the President's wish. The Freshmen and Sophomores all have two periods of gym a week and the upperclassmen may use the gym at any time after school.

Last Year the Father's Club equipped the gym with parallel bars, chinning bars, a horse, ropes and wings. All of this equipment is put to full use in the gym classes.

Through these classes in physical education, Holy Cross High School is doing its part in keeping the youth of this country physically fit.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

In 1960 an intramural swimming program was instituted at Holy Cross. The results of these two years influenced Brother Josaphat to inaugurate a varsity swimming team.

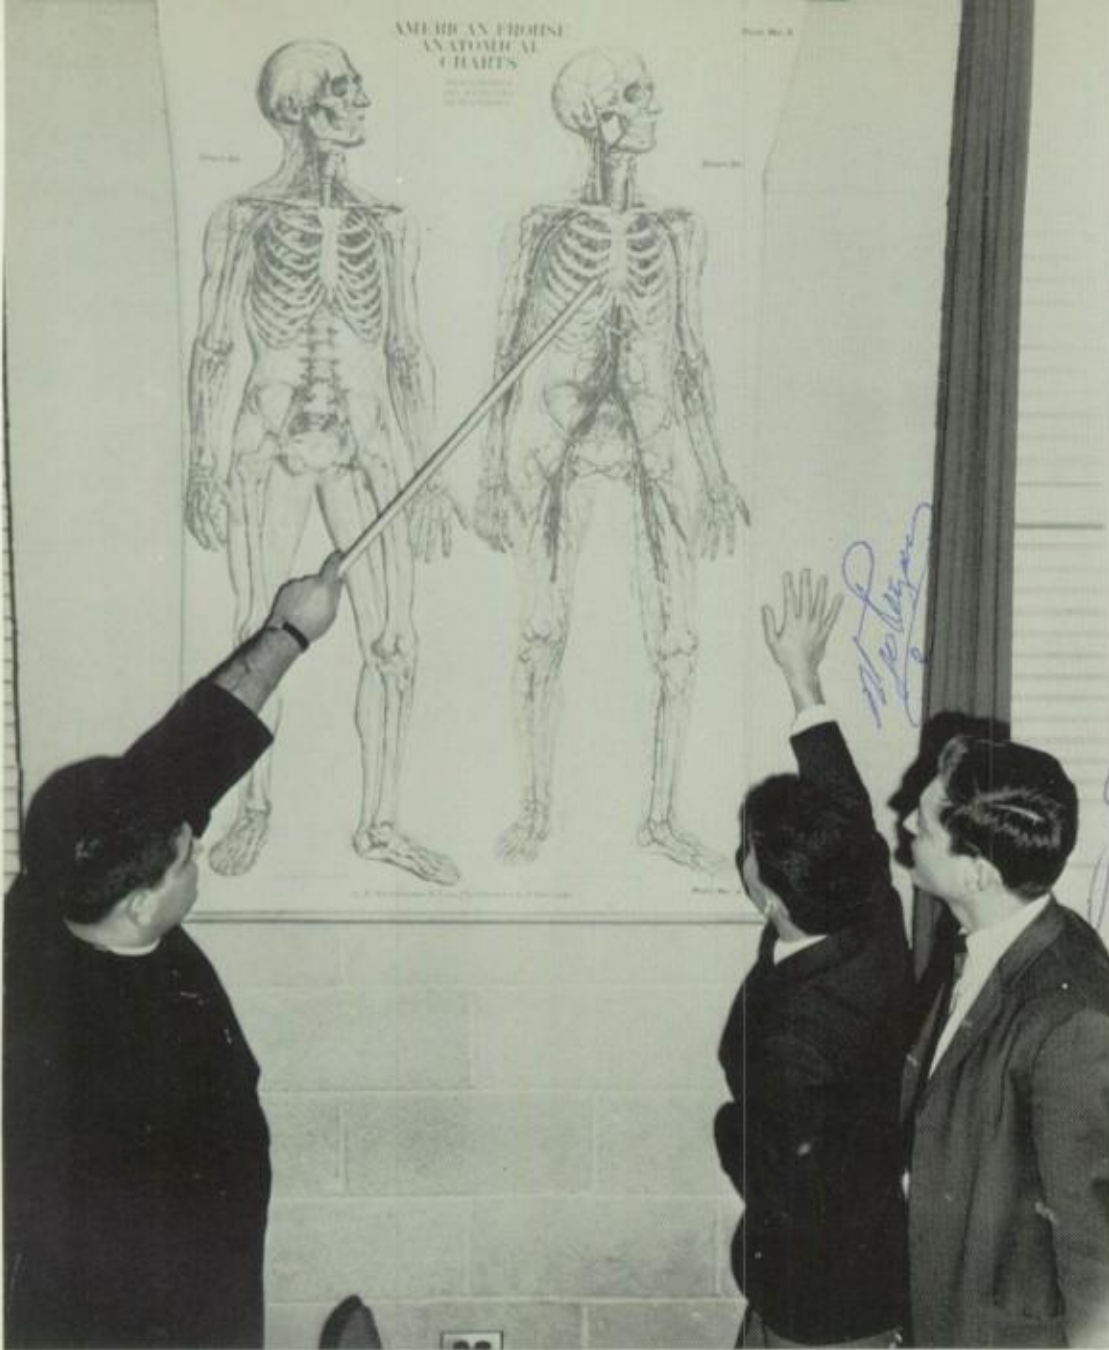

The members of this team are those who proved their ability while swimming in intramurals. The team is now a member of the Catholic High School Swimming League and is coached by Mr. Frank Gallagher. For the past two years Mr. Gallagher has helped with intramurals and generously offered his services as varsity coach. During the year the team met some staunch swimming powers as St. Francis Xavier, St. John's Prep, St. Francis Prep, Brooklyn Prep, Cardinal Hayes and Fordham Prep. As a result of these meets, Holy Cross has proved that it is an "up and coming team" and a power to be reckoned with in the future.

Meanwhile the intramurals are continuing under the leadership of Mr. Thomas Staph. Both Mr. Staph and Mr. Gallagher have expressed their confidence in the Varsity squad and in the great potential they see in the members of the intramural team.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The main purpose of the Biology Club is to develop an interest in science in the more interested students. Usually at the meetings, demonstrations, movies, and discussions are put on by the members under the guidance of Brother Paul and various projects are undertaken. Some of these include the study of basal metabolism, the genetic theory, and suspended animation.

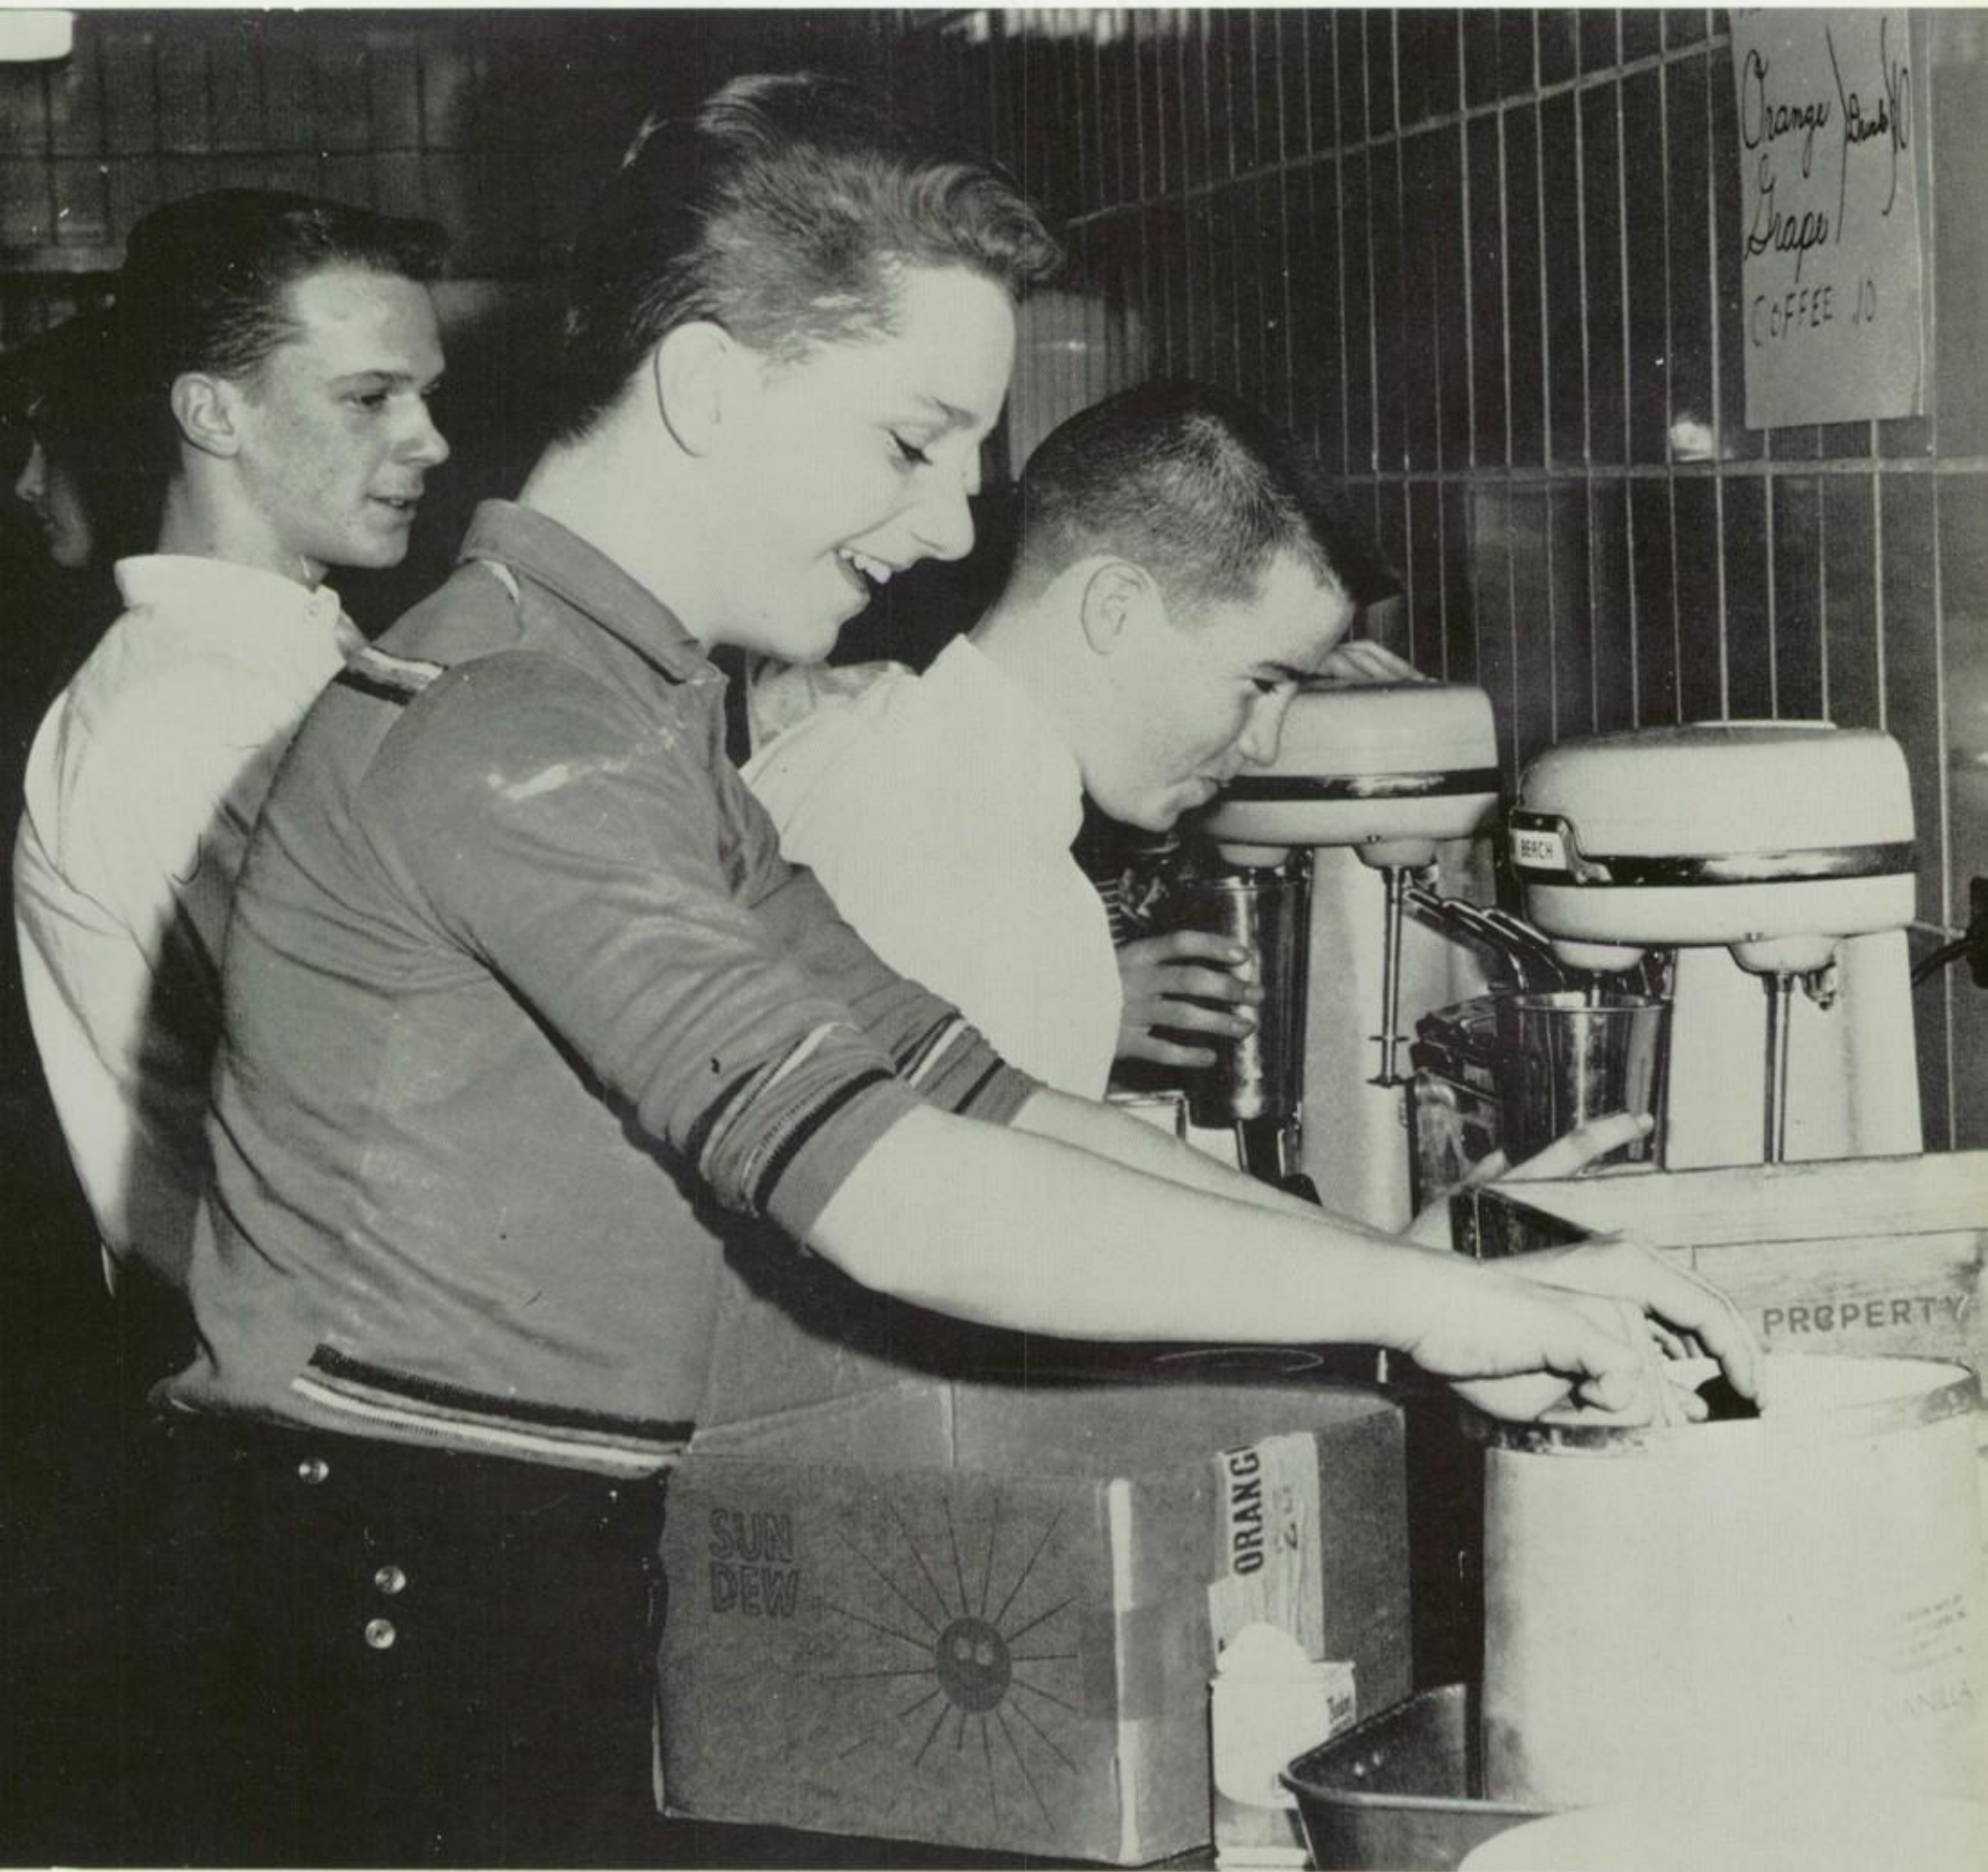

Brother Paul Rahim, Moderator of the Biology Club imparts some very important information to a couple of members of the Club during their after school meeting.

Who's imparting information to whom?

CONCESSIONS

These are just a few of the many unsung heroes of the Concessions Club. This year the Concessions is under the direction of Brother John Chrysostom. The group here seems to be enjoying their work, however, as they seem to on all occasions in which the group is called upon to be of service to the school.

LA ACADEMIA ESPANOL DE LA ESCUELA SECUDARIA DE SANTA CRUZ

This is the official title of a new club which was inaugurated at Holy Cross this year, "The Spanish Academy." Under the guidance of Brother Thomas Kane the academy proved to be one of our school's most ambitious efforts. Among the many projects undertaken by the student club members were the publication of a Spanish newspaper, correspondence with students from Spain and other Spanish speaking nations and group discussions with the intention of studying the history, customs and language of Spain and South America.

The academy has received its charter from the Sociedad Hispanica of DePauw University and thus in the future its members will be eligible for the Spanish National Honor Society. With these past efforts as their credentials the Spanish Academy promises to be one of our outstanding activities at Holy Cross.

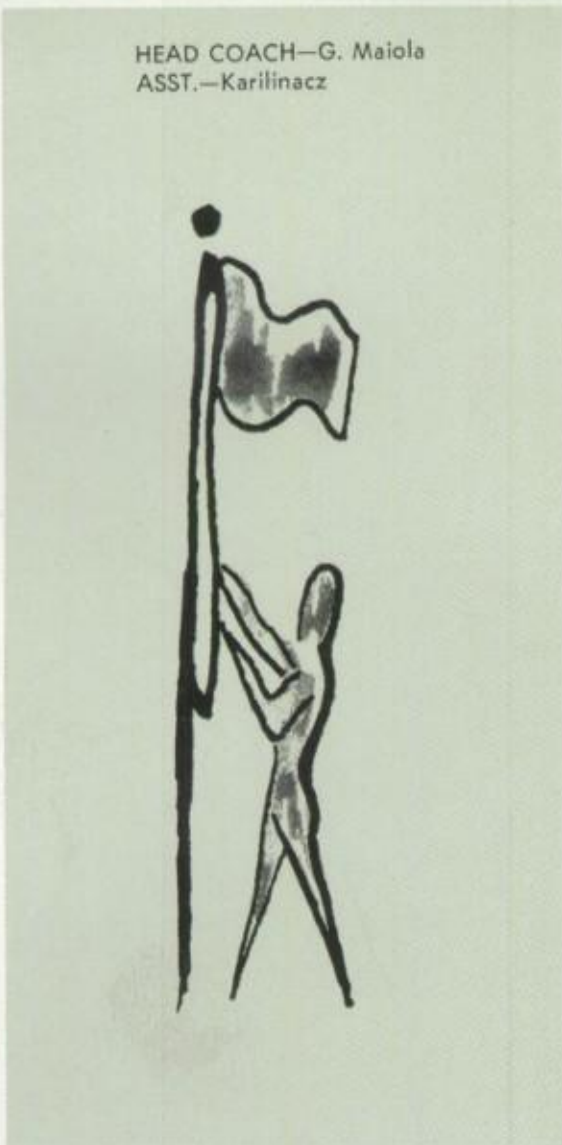

Here Brother Thomas Kane is pointing up to the students the fact that they have newspapers in the Spanish Countries—which is more than we can say for some places.

MOUNT 28 HOLY CROSS 14

Enthusiasm was on a high note for much had been heard about the "New Knights" and our football fortunes were expected to soar back into a respectable position among the schools of the C.H.S.S.A. On the very first play Mike Cunnion, Mount quarterback, faded to pass but Tom Cassese blasted through potential blockers and downed Cunnion for a substantial loss. But on the next few plays Cunnion caught fire and pitched the Mounties to a touchdown.

On their first play from scrimmage Holy Cross fumbled the ball and The Mount capitalized with Cunnion skirting the right end for ten yards and a touchdown. However, before the half ended, Paul Sullivan pitched 30 yards to end Kevin Stone to put the Knights into the scoring column. The score at the end of the half was Mount 14 Holy Cross 6.

In the second half the fortunes of Holy Cross were slowly fading as the Mount scored again in spite of an outstanding goal line stand by the Knights. In the fourth quarter Holy Cross made two more great goal line stands but the Mounties were knocking on the door again and Mike Cunnion skipped across the goal for a score on a quarterback sneak.

Then Holy Cross came alive as Paul Sullivan hit Tom Cassese with a touchdown pass while on dead run.

Besides the brilliant passing of Sullivan the great running of Art Louise and Kevin Columbo was also of great importance.

STEPINAC 24 HOLY CROSS 0

The Holy Cross fans had been somewhat disappointed in the Mount game and were expecting better results from this one.

Holy Cross won the toss and elected to receive. It looked as if the Cross would finally come through. The very first play from scrimmage produced a first and ten for the Knights. But after this small outburst they were completely stymied by the Stepinac defense which, to the man was bigger and stronger.

Of particular note on offense was the improved pass protection afforded quarterback Paul Sullivan. Although he threw no scoring strikes, Sullivan kept the opponents on edge with his pin point pitches.

Bob Podeswa, Tom Cassese, and Ken Burke made all-out efforts trying to stop the big Stepinac backs. The defensive gem of the day was the great interception by Columbo who free-wheeled his way for twenty-five yards.

Besides doing an outstanding job on defense Bob Podeswa ripped off some impressive runs. Kevin Columbo also did a fine job toting the skin.

CARDINAL HAYES 8 HOLY CROSS 14

The Holy Cross team went into this game with two setbacks behind them. They were grim and determined as they ran onto the playing field. The Hayes backs had gained fame for their great running ability. The Hayes team was undefeated and untied. Things looked dark for the hopeful Knights.

But the Cross went out to burst the Hayes balloon and this they did. Their playing was nothing short of magnificent. The game was a hard-fought contest, and Holy Cross for a change was on the receiving end of a few good breaks. But Hayes received enough that the label "fluke" could not be placed on the Knights' win.

Tom Cassese, Paul Sullivan, and Kevin Columbo must be rated as the standouts of the Holy Cross team. Columbo was especially great in all departments. He ran wildly, punted beautifully, and made a dandy interception. Kevin Shevlin also made an interception and sparkled on defense, along with Ron Petralia who really played a fine game. There were so many heroes that the team as a whole must be commended.

HOLY CROSS 32 FORDHAM 12

The Knights, fuming over their loss to Saint Frances the week before, were out for revenge.

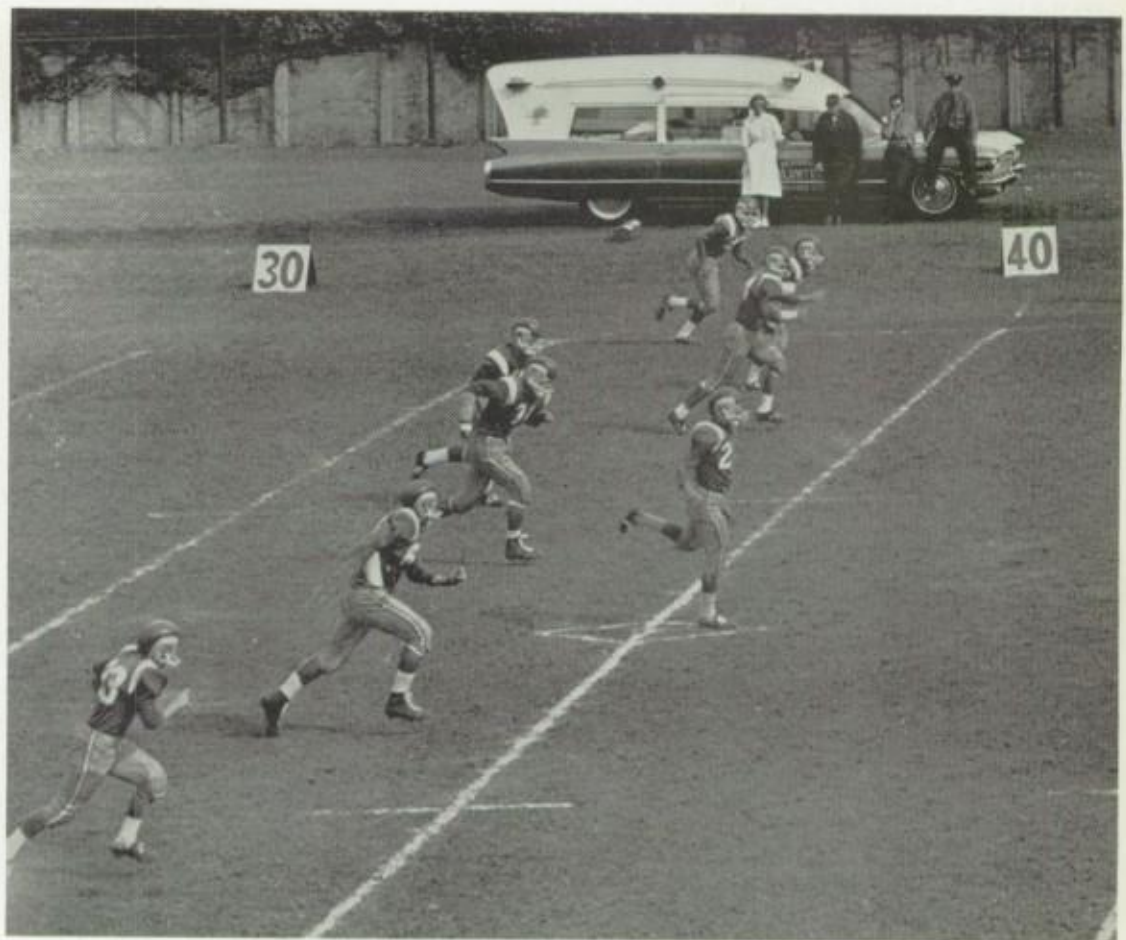

The fireworks started when end Tom Cassese intercepted a handoff and rambled 80 yards to paydirt. Then our offense began to click with Davis, Podeswa and Columbo ripping off fine runs. During this initial drive, whenever a run was foiled, Sullivan faded back and very coolly exhibited another display of brilliant clutch passing.

The saying goes that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. It came close in this game, however, as Art Louise made a 65 yard jaunt off left guard, and was immediately followed by a 78 yard run off right guard by Captain Bob Podeswa.

In the fourth quarter Seally amazed the fans by lofting a 35 yard scoring pitch which Tom Cassese corralled beautifully amidst two defenders.

Our line must be given praise, for without them this victory would not have been possible. After weeks of frustration our volcano finally erupted and the Fordham ram slept no more.

HOLY CROSS 21 IONA 6

Holy Cross entered this game refreshed by their stunning victory over Fordham. The fans were anticipating another display of high-octane offense by Holy Cross over their adversary. The defense which had shown momentary demonstrations of great strength, finally attained their finest hour. The backfield, led by the great running of Junior Kevin Columbo, ripped the Iona line to rags. Columbo also played a fine defensive game, and, together with Bob Podeswa, held the fans in awe with his all-round talent.

Our offensive line, which was improving as the games went on, gave a wonderful display of well-coordinated and efficient blocking. Commendable in this department were: Ron Petralia, the outstanding lineman, Chuck Savitscus, Bill Ballner, Phil Maree, Bill Orlasky, Ken Burke, and Art Louise.

Louise, a Junior halfback with explosive break-away speed, rambled for thirty yards in the first quarter and set up Holy Cross' first T.D., with Joe Davis powering his way from the Iona one to paydirt.

CHAMINADE 32 HOLY CROSS 0

Confident after their victories over Fordham and Iona the Knights were anxious to "take-on" the Chaminade Flyers. But fate was against the Knights. It was one of those days when "they could do nothing wrong and we could do nothing right." Fundamental football was executed with such brilliance by the Flyers that it left the Knights completely stunned.

As a former participant in this sport I have a general knowledge of what it takes for a successful game. The team that hits first and hardest, that reacts fastest as a unit is usually the winner. Unfortunately, our team failed to command the respect of their opponent from the beginning of the game, and Chaminade took advantage by plowing through our line like a squad of Mack trucks.

Kevin Columbo, however, did shine through and make everyone aware of his presence. The echoes of his pile-driving tackles resounded through the stadium all afternoon. As usual his punting was phenomenal; he made one of 80 yards and another of 65.

FLUSHING 8 HOLY CROSS 15

Immediately after the kickoff the Knights drove to the Flushing seven yard line only to be stymied by a staunch Flushing defense. They called on the talented Kevin Columbo who kicked a field goal to put the Knight ahead 3-0. For the remaining part of the half both teams were held scoreless. Of particular note was the fine defensive effort of the Knights in containing the much publicized Flushing "speed-merchants"—they just couldn't sweep around the outside.

During the second half the offensive of both teams started to "click" resulting in three T.D.'s—two for Holy Cross and one for Flushing. The first tally came when junior flash Art Louise took a kickoff and ran it back for a T.D. He took the ball on the 30 and swung to the inside, he side-stepped and dodged tacklers as he veered to the middle, then with a final burst of speed reached the outside and was on his way. The next score came on a pass from Junior Q.B. Ken Auer. On the fourth down, he pitched a strike to end Tom Cassese, who went over for the tally.

In post game ceremonies the Most Valuable Player Award went to Bob Podeswa who thrilled the fans with his broken field running and brilliant defensive plays.

TRACK

The wind is blowing, the ground is covered with ice and snow, but training is as important to the trackman as gasoline is to an automobile, these runners realize this and continue their workout despite the inclement weather.

A little teamwork here, cleans off the track after a snowstorm.

Hi There: and while you are at it just call me Joe Iceberg.

'62-'63 SEASON THE KNIGHTS MAKE THE C.H.S. A.A. PLAYOFFS

Holy Cross stormed into the 1962-63 basketball season under the leadership of a new coach, Mr. William O'Meara, and upon the heels of last year's record of 20 wins and a loss and a second place finish in the city play-offs. The Knights were hit hard by the loss of All-American Bob McIntyre and an invaluable guard, Jim Dougherty. Nevertheless, much was expected since 3 key starters, Paul Sullivan, Mike Riordan and Joe Heather were returning and a very good Holy Cross J.V. was counted on to take up the slack. But the lack of a tall pivot man plagued the team all season. However, Holy Cross improvised with guts and courage and placed second in their division with a 14 win and 7 loss record, thus giving an admirable account of themselves. At this writing the Knights had won 10 straight games and achieved the quarter-finals of the city play-offs.

accounted for much of the scoring, rebounding and hustle, thereby playing a vital part in the team's success. The fine play of some juniors, however, should not go unnoticed. Rich Goggin, Jack Scally, Harry Groom and John Raftery were important cogs in the Knight's wheel. Also, the able coaching of Mr. O'Meara must be singled out for accolades. The whole team in general must be congratulated for their perseverance and valour, for Holy Cross' record stood at 4 wins and 7 losses at midseason. Angered by such a record and inspired by last year's success against great odds, Holy Cross won their last ten games under extreme pressure.

This is but the story of the Knight's team in a nutshell; you must have witnessed them in action to see the pride they held for their school and their hope that a pattern of continual success would be set for future classes.

HOLY CROSS 42 LANE 57

In their first game of the year on a foreign court, Holy Cross gave a poor showing of itself. The absence of Paul Sullivan, due to an injury, was deeply felt, as was the presence of the early season "jitters."

HOLY CROSS 76 FLUSHING 51

The Knights rebounded from its first loss with a decisive victory, winning by 25 points. Joe Heather came through with 21 pts., while Mike Riordan contributed 24, Down by 8 pts. at halftime. Holy Cross showed its resiliency by charging back in the 2nd half and winning its first game of the year.

HOLY CROSS 60 BROOKLYN PREP 74

Holy Cross had played a courageous ball game but Brooklyn Prep had the deciding factor: height. The Eagles continually beat the Knights off the boards despite the determined efforts of Holy Cross and sent the Knights to their 2nd loss.

HOLY CROSS 65 MOLLOY 52

Going into the game as a big underdog against the tall Stanners, Holy Cross showed its great desire to win by coming from behind to win its first league game. This was truly a team effort with each member doing his part and little more. Paul Sullivan led the attack with 16 points, most of which on crucial foul shots.

HOLY CROSS 45 CHAMINADE 47

Holy Cross lost a heartbreaker to the Flyers when their 8 pt. lead was diminished and the game was put on ice by a Chaminade hook shot in the last 15 seconds. The Knights played well but were out-hustled by the determined Flyers.

HOLY CROSS 40 XAVERIAN 41

Here was a game where over-confidence took its toll. Holy Cross took the Xaverian team too lightly, losing in overtime by one point. This was truly the low point of the season and the Knight's attitude was one of disgust, for losing to such a weak team as Xaverian was indeed a disgrace and their chances of making the play-offs were considerably dimmed.

HOLY CROSS 81 McCLANCY 46

Spurred on by a 3 game losing streak Holy Cross broke out of its slump and thrashed a bewildered McClancy team. Coach O'Mera employed a full court press and it proved too hard to break as the Knights reached their highest point total of the year, with everybody breaking the scoring column.

HOLY CROSS 50 LOUGHLIN 66

Holy Cross entered the game as decided underdogs, but nevertheless gave Laughlin a scare for 3 quarters before fouling caught up with 3 starters and the game was broken wide open. Again the Knights employed a zone press with good results, matching the tall Lion point for point for the first 3 quarters.

HOLY CROSS 72 ST. JOHN'S PREP 60

The Knights finally met a team its own size and won a rather dull game to keep alive its chances for taking a play-off berth. Team play once again dominated the game, providing the key to the Holy Cross attack.

HOLY CROSS 36 MOLLOY 72

Holy Cross was overwhelmed by the amazing shooting of Molloy and by a dismal shooting day on the part of the Knights. They were outplayed throughout the game and gave a very poor display of itself to a team it had previously beaten. However, it did give an impetus to the team, for Holy Cross had to prove it was worthy of the school.

HOLY CROSS 56 ST. FRANCIS 65

Holy Cross was again faced with the problem of lack of height as St. Francis Prep was endowed with 6 ft 6" Lloyd Dove. He proved to be the winning factor, scoring 27 points. Nevertheless, Holy Cross gave them a good, close game, demonstrating once again their fight and desire even in a losing game. But brighter clouds were on the horizon, as the Knights began to develop and play as a team.

HOLY CROSS 54 ST. AUGUSTINE 39

The Knights expected a tough game and true to form they got it. The game was nip and tuck for the first 3 quarters with the lead changing hands frequently. But, the Knights outfought the battling Lancers with Paul Sullivan leading the way. He racked up 26 pts. and 14 of them were all-important foul shots. The Knights were beginning to click and were setting a pattern for future games.

HOLY CROSS 35 CHAMINADE 34

Having been beaten by these same Flyers the last time they met by 2 pts., the Knights were inflamed to the boiling point. Holy Cross took an early lead in the Chaminade gym and survived a late Chaminade rally to win by 1 pt. Thus Holy Cross avenged its earlier defeat to the Flyers, keeping alive the chances to a play-off berth. The Knights fought bitterly and it would be unfair to single out anybody for plaudits. Holy Cross was now playing as it should, and the watchword for the opposition was: "Holy Cross is back in form."

HOLY CROSS 62 TRINITY 49

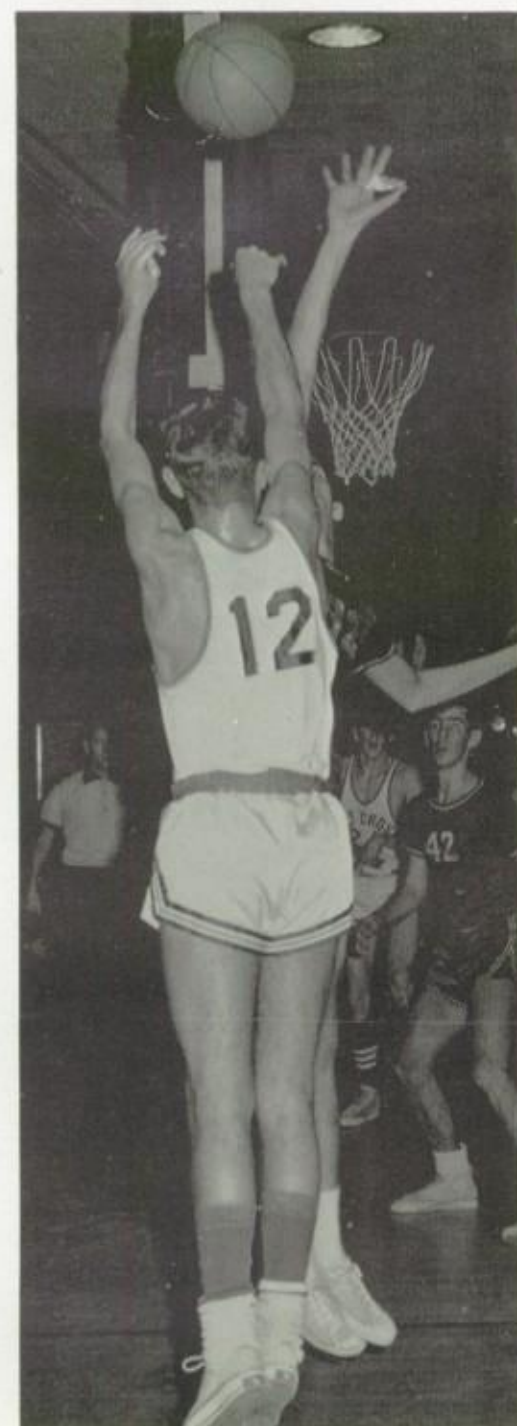

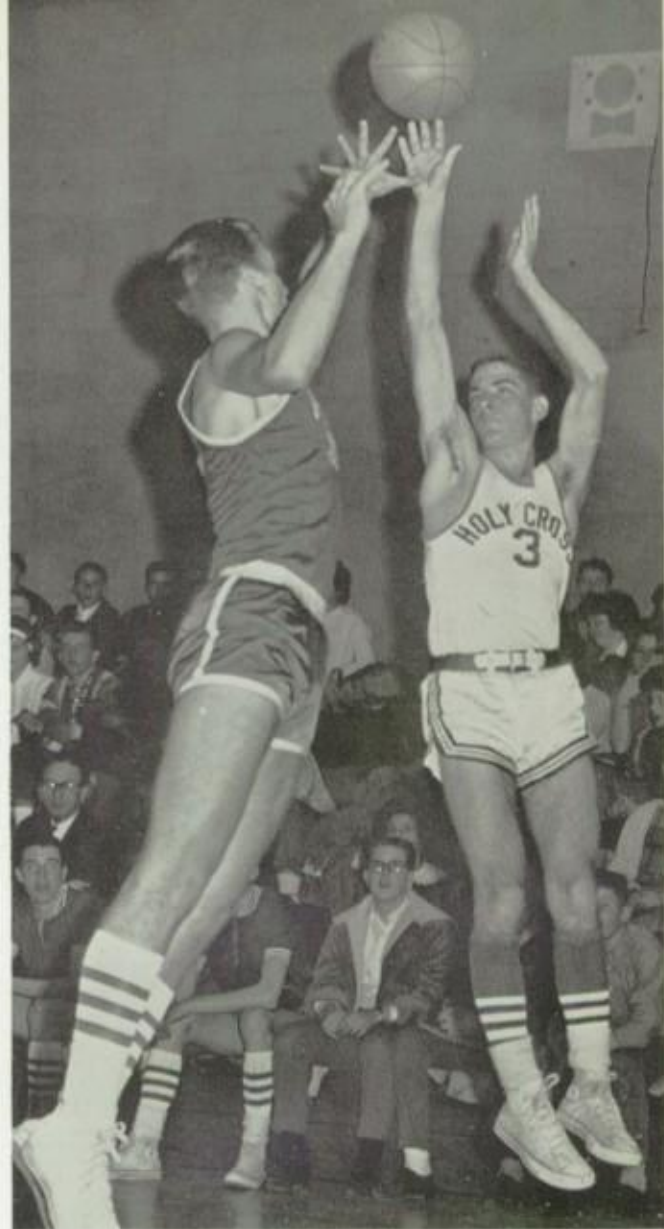

Holy Cross swept its third straight game on the small Trinity court. The game was well played and hard fought, proving once again the Knights never quit attitude. Joe Heather was high man with 18 pts. while Paul Sullivan followed with 15. It was Sullivan's foul shooting and ball control which pulled the game out of the fire for Holy Cross.

HOLY CROSS 74 FLUSHING 42

The marked improvement of Holy Cross was very much noticeable as the Knights trounced Flushing for the 2nd time this season. Special notice must be paid to the shooting of J. Heather and the fine play of Jack Scally. Coach O'Meara substituted freely but still managing to stomp Flushing by 30 points.

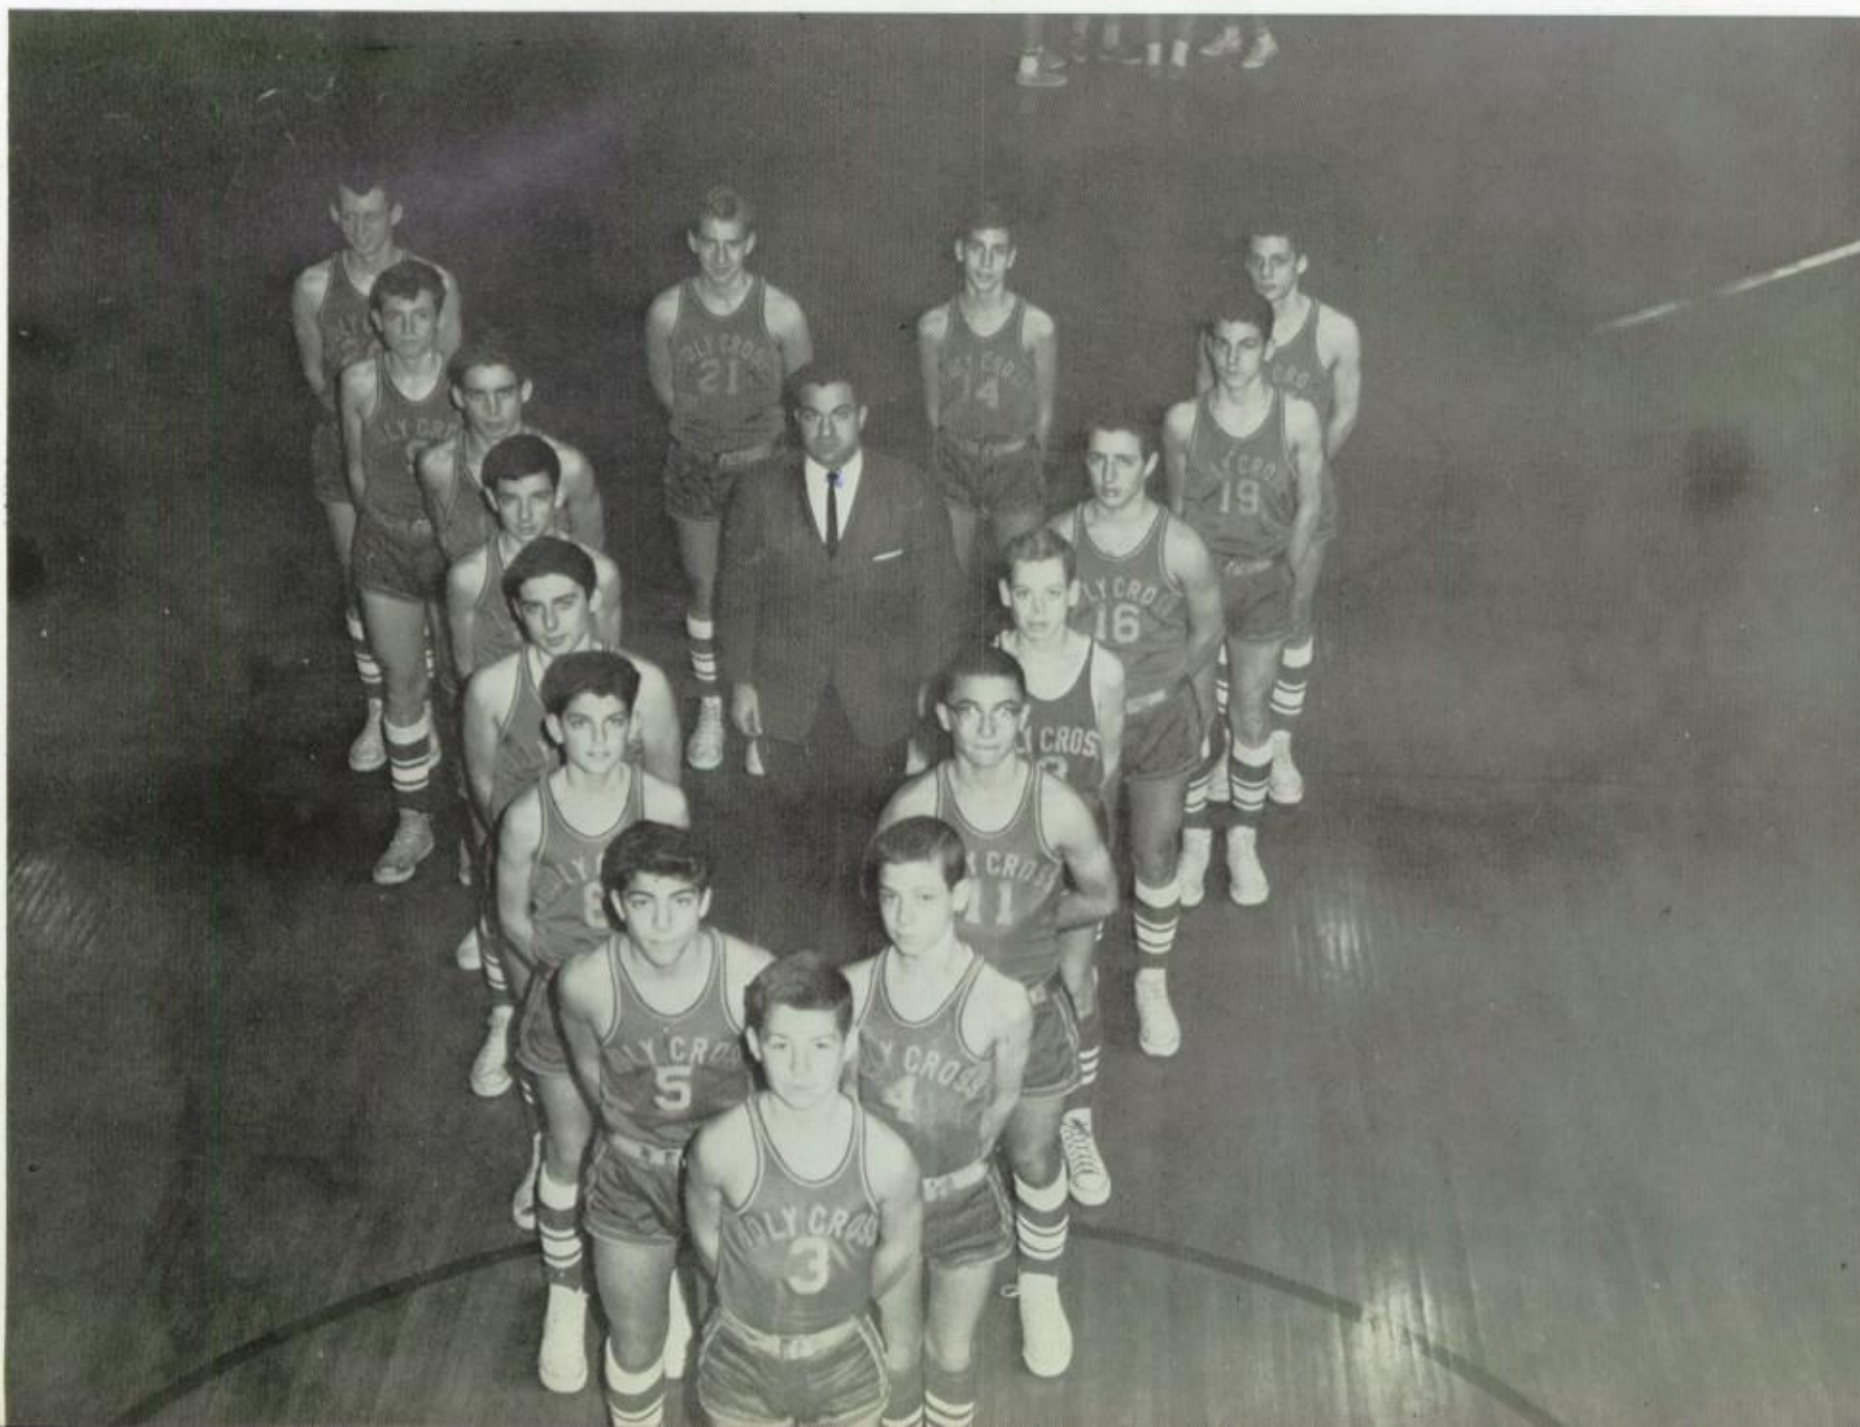

HOLY CROSS 46 CHAMINADE 38

The Knights were tied with Chaminade and Xaverian for the last two play-off berths and had to beat both of them for one of those all-important berths. Well, in the first game with Chaminade at a neutral court Holy Cross came through when it counted, overcoming a 12 point Chaminade lead and winning the game in the last minute of play, thereby knocking out the Flyers from the playoffs.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

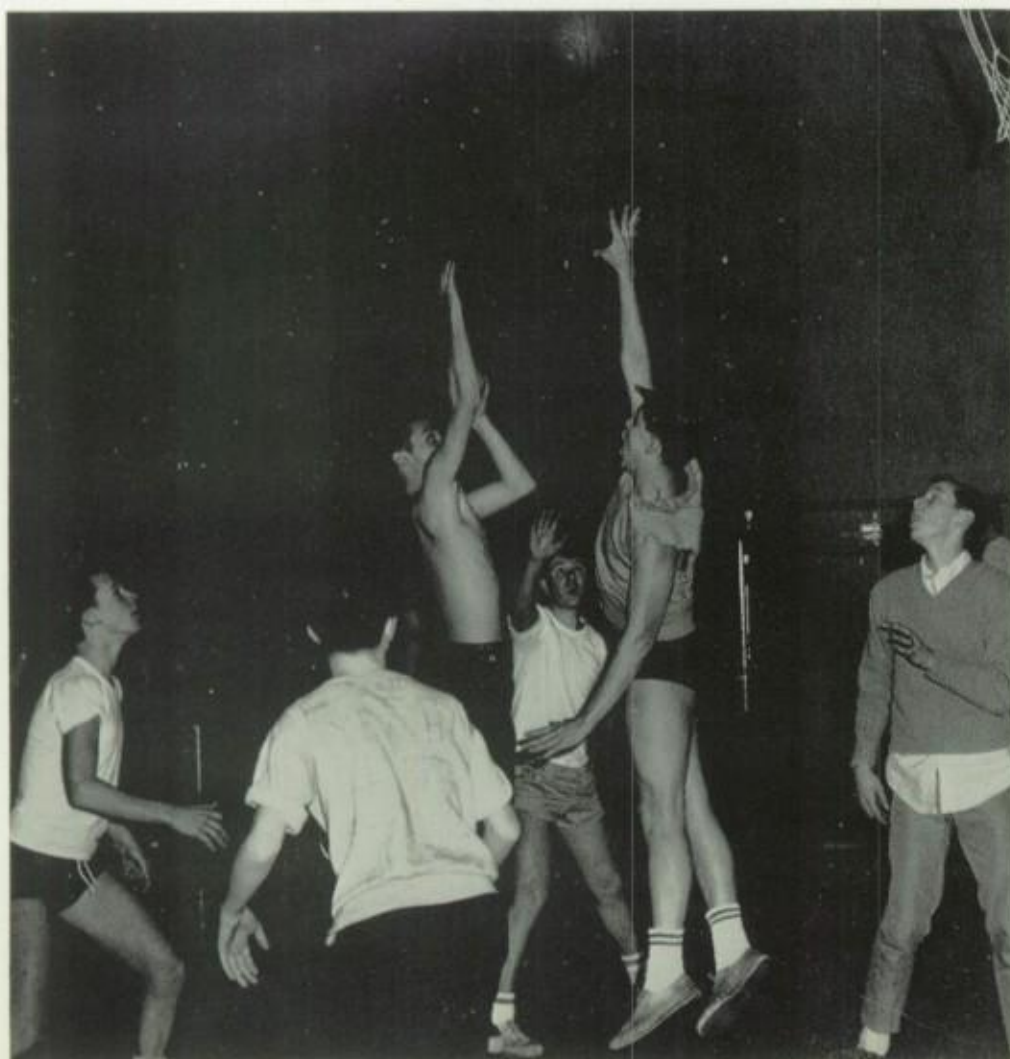

In order to aid the physical development of Holy Cross students the Student Council annually sponsors an Intramural Basketball Tournament.

This year, because of the tremendous response of the student body, the season was extended to ten games, which were followed by the playoffs. In all a total of 62 teams participated. The gym was charged with excitement every Saturday as teams vied with one another for play-off berths. Every day at the lunch table strategy was planned for the game on Saturday and tension ran high as the Saturday game approached. Practices were held by the teams at the various playgrounds and parks to enable them to work smoothly as a team. As the season came to a close it was evident that the student body had benefited greatly from the program.

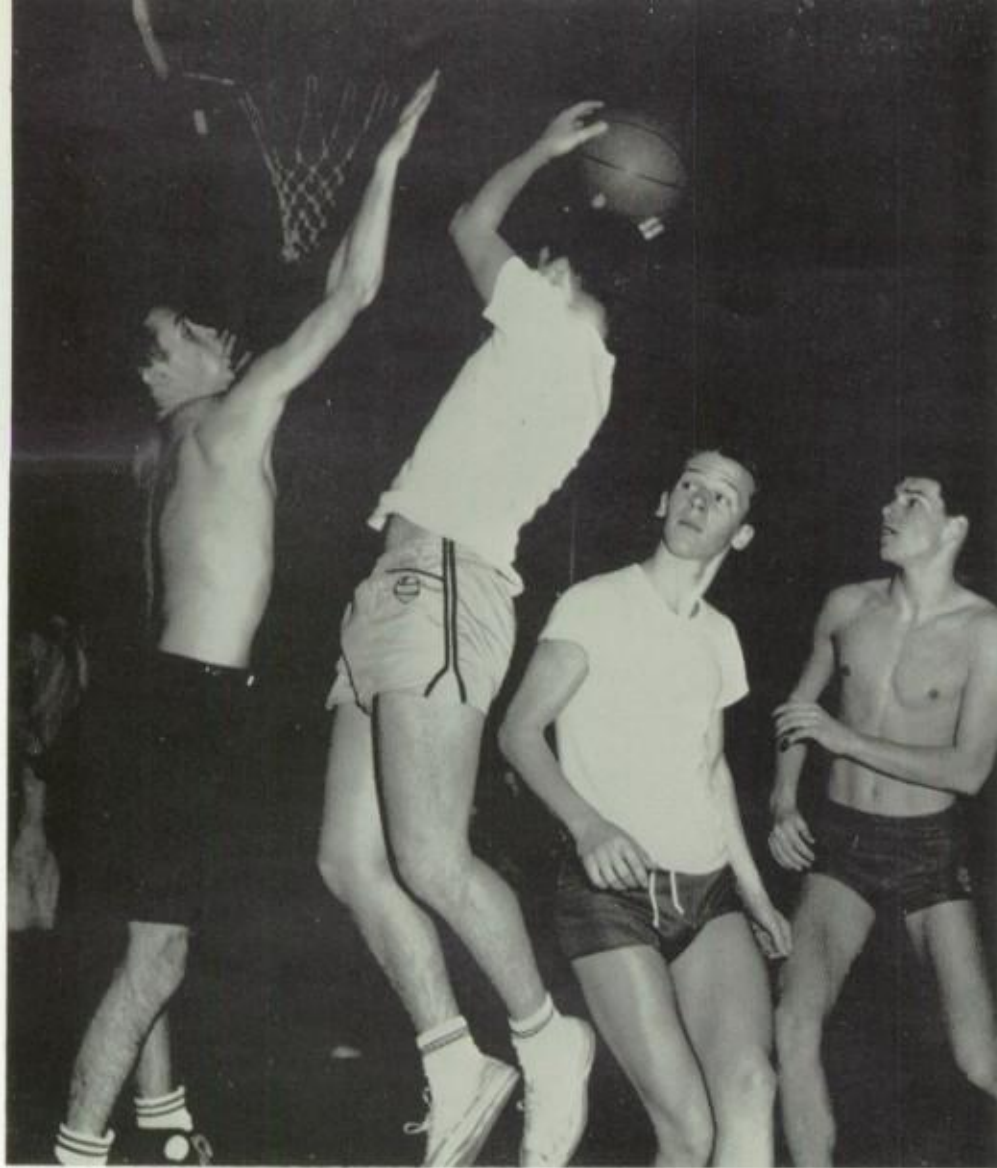

A great deal of credit is due to the student council members who planned the schedule and reffed the games.

Section 41 and 42 battle it out jumping for the ball during one of the games.

I don't think this man knows where the basket is—do you?
